Declares 24 Counties Major Disaster Area

LBJ Marks $2.5 Million For Texas Flood Damage

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, touring the flooded lower Rio Grande Valley Thursday, declared 24 sodden South Texas counties to be a major disaster area.

He allocated $2.5 million of special federal aid as a starter — only half the amount, the White House said, that Gov. John Connally requested.

As Johnson acted Rio Grande floodwaters ravaged villages and pushed toward the twin cities of Brownsville and Matamoros. Houses and buildings in Arroyo City, a tiny fishing village 15 miles from Harlingen, toppled one by one into the swirling waters. Residents left the village before the danger.

Convening an impromptu airport news conference here to announce the federal grant, which will be used to rebuild roads, bridges and other public facilities, Johnson said, "There wasn't a great deal I could do by personally coming here."

He said he made the trip "to let these people know that their government cares for them."

Johnson added he wanted victims of Hurricane Beulah and her ensuing floods to know "that we are a compasionate and understanding government and that in an hour of need we are there."

The President rode around Harlingen—where many of the streets looked like canals—in a yellow school bus.

Then he boarded a jet-powered helicopter and flew 70 miles over thousands of acres of flooded farmland to Rio Grande City on the Texas side of the Mexican border.

There he inspected an emergency hospital set up in a high school classroom and visited a temporary mess hall where he leaned on the tables to chat with refugees eating a supper of chili, corn, stringbeans, fruit salad, bread and butter and milk.

With the chief executive were two long-feuding Texas Democrats—Connally and Sen. Ralph Yarborough, as well as Republican Sen. John Tower.

Wednesday Yarborough accused Connally of waiting too long to ask for federal disaster aid. The governor responded by calling the senator a "despicable man."

Johnson managed to get both men into the same bus and helicopter with him, and had public words of praise for each.

"I'm happy," he said, "that these servnts of the people still care about the people."

After his tour of the water-and-wind stricken valley, Johnson flew with Connally to his ranch near Johnson City for a weekend stay. Yarborough flew to San Antonio.

Mrs. Johnson, who skipped the flood tour, awaited the President at the ranch, where they may remain until next Tuesday.

Johnson is to address the 1,600 delegates to the National Legislative Conference in San Antonio tonight in what was expected to be a full commentary on the Vietnam war.

Meanwhile, the hurricane-triggered floods appeared to be abating in Harlingen.

The flood depth at Harlingen was 41.30 feet late Thursday night, down three feet from Wednesday morning's peak.

Man, Grandson Killed When Two Trucks Ram

2 Vehicles Demolished In Accident

Wilmon Ward, 63, And Donald Ward Victims Of Crash

Two Hancock County residents are dead as the result of the collision of two trucks Thursday about 3:30 p.m.

Killed were Wilmon Harold (Dude) Ward, 63, of Hardins Run Rd., New Cumberland, and his 17-year-old grandson, Donald Eugene Ward of White Oak Run Rd., New Cumberland.

The trucks were demolished in the crash.

Wilmon Ward was dead on arrival at City Hospital about 3:45 p.m. and the younger Ward died at 5:03 a.m. today.

The grandfather suffered multiple head and chest injuries and multiple lacerations and his grandson received multiple fractures, lacerations and other injuries when the 1962 pickup truck the elder Ward was driving reportedly pulled in front of a two - ton truck operated by Larry Grabel, 19, of Prosperity, Pa., RD 2. The truck is owned by the H. L. Gentry Construction Co. of Perrysburg, Ohio. Ward's truck was owned by Homer Sponaugle of Chester RD.

The accident occurred on the Waterford Park Rd. (County Rd. 5) at the intersection with Locust Hill Rd. (County Rd. 5/1). Hancock Sheriff's deputies said stop signs are posted on the Locust Hill Rd.

Young Ward made his home with his grandparents.

Mr. Ward was born July 15, 1904, at New Cumberland, a son of the late Charles and Matilda Lester Ward. He was a retired truck driver for the Fuccy Hauling & Excavating Co. of New Cumberland. He attended the Christian Church.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Minnie Ryan Ward, at home; five daughters, Miss Terry Ward at home. Mrs. Wanda Holderman and Mrs. Jack (Doris) Allender, both of Parsons, W. Va., Mrs. William (Mildred) Siegman of New Cumberland RD 1 and Mrs. Homer (Veleda) Spanogal of Chester RD 2; a sister, Mrs. J. M. (Myrtle) Miller of Sarasota, Fla., and 13 grandchildren.

Donald Ward was born July 26, 1950, at City Hospital. He had been employed by New

Shooting, Vandalism Reported

Another Convoy Halted, Driver-Union Talks End

New pressures on truckers still hauling highway loads grew today — including shooting at police escorts, blocking a convoy at Lisbon, paint tossing and other vandalism — and no results were reported from a settlement effort in the steel-haulers strike.

A convoy of 20 Weir - Cove rigs was halted in the Square at Lisbon this morning by some 50 protesting truckers and their wives.

Shots were fired at a Mahoning County Sheriff's Deputy early today shortly after he had escorted three rigs from Youngstown to the Ohio Turnpike interchange.

At Pittsburgh a meeting between representatives of the Teamsters Union and the striking truckers with Gov. Raymond Shafer's aides as intermediators broke off early this morning after 14½ hours.

THERE WAS no indication of what has happened or whether any other talks were planned.

The group at Lisbon leaned against the front of the lead truck and refused to budge when Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt yelled, "All right, move them out!" Four deputy sheriffs stood by to assist.

Perhaps 200 spectators on the street and in courthouse offices looked on.

In the cab, Romie Castelli, son of the trucking firm owner, saw the situation and didn't even start the motor.

"I hope that makes you feel good," he said climbing from the cab.

One of the blockading group climbed on the truck, shouting—"They're going back, fellows, and we're going to follow them to Liverpool. Make real sure nothing happens on the way down.

The strikers moved their sign — "Protest — Union Unfair to Owner - Operator" — and with police and deputies holding up traffic at the square, the trucks headed back on Route 30.

THE TRUCKS were lined up on Market St. from the Courthouse south to Washington St. and west on Washington for a couple of blocks along Route 164. The blockade lasted over 20 minutes while the strikers talked to drivers, police and deputies.

One of the strikers went down the line of halted trucks taking pictures of the drivers with a movie camera.

Castelli, who was escorting the convoy in an automobile, took charge when he arrived. After the convoy headed back, he said it had come into town by way of Routes 39 and 164 because he had word the strikers were blocking Route 7 and 30 at East Liverpool.

It was the first time a Weir-Cove convoy had turned back in this county; although convoys have run into nails and oil slicks on Route 7. They have used Routes 30 and 45 through Lisbon for several days.

The trucks were hauling steel coils from Weirton to Cleveland.

"Our equipment is 100 per cent company - owned," Castelli said. "These fellows (the owner - operators) have a complaint, but they are going about it the wrong way," he added.

CASTELLI SAID his convoys get good protection in West Virginia, but it disappears entirely when they cross the river.

Shots were fired at a Mahoning County Sheriff's deputy early today shortly after he had escorted three steel trucks from Youngstown to the Ohio Turnpike interchange, the sheriff's office reported.

The deputy, Sgt. Floyd Crater, 35, of Youngstown said the shots were fired at his car as he cruised about 10 miles west of the city.

He had just escorted three Hennis Freight Lines, Inc. trucks laden with steel to the

Surge Of Ground Fighting Reported Near DMZ

U.S. Planes Blast Missile Sites, Vital Bridges Of North Viet Port

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today fresh air raids on the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong and a surge of ground fighting in South Vietnam, particularly in the important northern provinces threatened by Communist troops massed near the demilitarized zone.

Navy planes from the carrier Intrepid flashed over Haiphong Thursday to blast 16 antiaircraft and missile sites. Right behind came waves of jets from the Coral Sea to hit the vital rail and road bridge in the city's southwestern section for the seventh time.

The headquarters reported for the first time this month "no significant shelling" along the demilitarized border with North Vietnam, where U.S. Marines are dug in across possible Communist invasion routes.

But heavy fighting was listed in the northernmost 1st Corps zone and 72 Communist soldiers were reported killed.

Smaller fights dotted the nation. In the Mekong delta south of Saigon, guerrillas ambushed and burned a U.S. Navy patrol boat—the first loss of one of the river boats.

Despite marginal weather over North Vietnam, Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 150 combat missions. With the exception of the Haiphong raid, most hit at supply targets on routes leading south from Hanoi to the DMZ. Fliers reported hitting 144 river barges and a number of trucks, rail cars and locomotives.

Pilots said their bombs dropped at least one span of Haiphong's southwestern rail and highway bridge, one of four main bridges leading from the north's biggest port. All have been previously hit and all but one are known to have been severed. The fourth, a rail bridge on the northwestern edge of the city has been heavily damaged.

Heavy raids on Haiphong, have been carried on whenever the weather permitted since Sept. 11 in an effort to strangle routes leading from the port and back up supplies.

Pilots reported that the normally heavily defended city threw up only light to moderate antiaircraft fire. Headquarters made no mention of plane losses.

Over the demilitarized zone, B52s and waves of tactical jets struck at suspected Communist bivouacs and the gunpits from which mortars and long-range guns have been giving Marine positions to the south a month-long pounding.

The high-altitude B52s swept over the area three times today, unloading an estimated 450,000 pounds of bombs. Two of the raids were just inside North Vietnam and the third was just above the shell-scarred Marine post at Con Thien.

Headquarters reported that the Con Thien area received only 50 incoming rounds Thursday and that four Marines were wounded—the lightest day in a month.

There was no slackening just to the south, where Army troops are sweeping Quang Ngai and Quang Tin provinces.

Central Prayer Of Mass Due English Translation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States has authorized an English translation of the Canon or central prayer of the Mass, beginning Oct. 22, thus eliminating Latin entirely from the audible part of the service.

Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, president of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops, announced the decision Thursday.

The Canon is the prayer of praise and thanksgiving that includes the words attributed to Jesus at the Last Supper.

Exclusively Latin Masses have almost vanished in this country although they are still permissible in some areas.

The newly authorized English version of the Canon was prepared by the International Committee on English in the Liturgy.

It eventually is expected to come into use throughout the English-speaking world.

This version is basically a direct translation of the Latin text but stresses simple phrases in contrast to the multiple and superlaive adjectives found in the Latin.

For example, the opening words of the Canon, "clementisime Pater," literally meaning "most merciful Father," have been translated simply into "Father." The words "haec dona, haec munera, haec sancta sacrificia lilibata," literally meaning "these gifts, these presents, these holy unspotted sacrifices" will be recited as "these gifts we offer you in sacrifice."

In addition, archaic words such as "thou" and "thee" will not appear in the English translation of the Canon. This is in line with English translations of other parts of the Mass designed to emphasize modern English usage.

Political Maneuvering Looms Over Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — A partisan battle for political advantage seems sure to end up in a sharply pruned federal spending program. But still at issue is who will wield the shears.

Congress will probably decide next week whether to take the initiative in budget-cutting or hand President Johnson a "do-it-yourself" directive.

The stakes are highly political—neither party wants to be blamed for slashing programs popular with the public. But some congressmen say spending must drop before they'll vote for Johnson's proposed income tax hike.

The maneuvering also involves the future paychecks of thousands of government workers in a score of agencies. Their money is tied up in a controversial temporary appropriation measure that would tide them over until Oct. 10.

The affected agencies have been financed temporarily since the new fiscal year started July 1 with their normal annual money bills still in the legislative machinery. Their current money ration runs out at midnight Saturday but they will continue operating on faith that eventually the bills will be paid.

No payless paydays are anticipated by Treasury officials until mid-October and they hope the problem will be resolved by then.

There's no problem next week, they added, because employes will be paid from September funds for work done in September. Virtually everyone paid the following week will fall into the same category.

Technically it will be illegal for many government employes to make a telephone call or take a taxi on business Monday since they would be obligating the government to pay the bill Congress hasn't authorized.

But one official said "common sense, prudence and blind faith will prevail." The government, as it has in similar situations before, will continue to operate, he said.

The House Appropriations Committee tried to get unanimous consent Thursday for passage of the 10-day financing bill after the House earlier rejected a 30-day plan because it couldn't consider a Republican alternative.

Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, top Republican on the committee, objected to immediate action Thursday because the parliamentary situation wouldn't permit consideration of his alternative proposal.

Bow and all 168 Republicans on record want to add to the bill a directive to the President to cut $5 billion from government spending this year, with the President deciding where to cut.

Democratic Leader Carl Albert told the House the Republican proposal was a "surrender" to the President of congressional authority. He said the Appropriations Committee has started a review of appropriations already made or pending in hopes it can make some deep cuts and recapture some money already provided.

The Public's Involvement

The halting of a truck convoy on the River Rd. Thursday by dissident truckers and women sympathetic to their protest move is a new unwanted involvement of the public.

Just as shooting along the highway, the tossing of rocks and the dropping of nail-studded boards is a serious threat to men, women and children not connected with the dispute, the blocking of a public street or road is a deprivation of a motorist's right to use the right of way.

The striking truckers have made clear their arguments in this situation, and they should have recourse to whatever peaceful and proper procedures are necessary to convince the Teamsters Union and others of the need for revision of working conditions and payment.

They do not have the right to endanger the public, to halt the free flow of travel on roads, or to harass police who are charged with maintenance of law and order.

The issues here can best be solved by discussions between the drivers and the Teamsters Union, as undertaken Thursday at Pittsburgh.

The man on the street or behind the wheel may be concerned about the strike, its effect on his job and his needs and may be favorable to one side or the other. He doesn't want to be dodging bullets or rocks, or wrecking his car because of flat tires or being delayed on any road by pickets or disabled trucks.

Justice claimed for one laboring element should not signal injustice for everyone else.

Vietnam Today, Tomorrow The World

Hanoi's scathing rejection of Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's peace feeler served up in the United Nations General Assembly a few days ago makes one point crystal clear.

Peace in Vietnam can be achieved in only two ways — both at the initiative of the United States.

One way is to unleash the power of the United States to effect the unconditional surrender of North Vietnam.

At the other extreme is the possibility of the United States pulling out entirely.

The North Vietnamese are losing men and equipment daily, but not at a rate great enough to force them to quit.

They have just signed a new agreement with the Soviet Union for massive aid.

North Vietnamese soldiers still retain the tenacity provided by the knowledge they are fighting "foreigners" on Asian soil.

Hanoi is buoyed by the knowledge it could call on Red China for Manpower if the need became great enough.

In short, Hanoi isn't about to agree to a cease-fire dictated by the United States which would set the mood for a compromise.

The United States wants peace in Vietnam to stop the fighting; the North Vietnamese are playing for higher stakes.

The are willing to take a lot more killing to gain their ends.

If they quit now, what would they have gained?

Whether they are right or wrong has nothing to do with it. They are committed to a single course of action and are refusing to be deterred.

The North Vietnamese are, in effect, telling the United States: destroy us or get out. They have no intention of giving the United States an easy way out.

The Johnson administration has told the American people the United States will stand firm in Vietnam and is not fighting a war of annihilation.

But the slaughter of thousands on thousands of American men and an annual defense appropriation of $70 billion is forcing the United States inevitably toward a decision that lies somewhere between these propositions: Risking a world holocaust in destoying one half a nation to save the other half, or withdrawing and losing face to save the world from World War III.

Brainwashing While You Wait

It was in the political cards for the Johnson administration's brainwashing boomerang that hit Gov. Romney on the rebound to come around full circle.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, who has been speaking up lately for Republican moderates, now wonders about the brainwashing of President Johnson. It is a matter for wonderment—has been since his election in 1964.

When he was making his sensationally successful bid for the presidency that year, Mr. Johnson was diametrically opposed to Barry Goldwater's hamfisted attitude on Vietnam.

The Johnson line on Vietnam was caution and prudence. He may have captured a few million more votes when he said at one juncture that he did not want to risk sending American boys to war against 800 million Chinese.

Meanwhile, candidate Goldwater was alienating moderate voters with hairy threats to defoliating Vietnamese jungles to facilitate killing Vietnamese troops who a few years before had driven out the last of the French militarists to the consternation of U.S. military hawks.

But when the election was over Johnsonian caution and prudence were abandoned and full-fledged militarism took their place. All the things advocated in the Goldwater campaign were adopted outright by the Johnson administration. Moderation was forgotten.

One of two things had happened.

Either both men were brainwashed by militarists who had been wanting to go to war in Vietnam ever since the French left in 1954, or Lyndon Johnson had fooled millions of voters into watching the wrong hand.

If that were true, voters who wanted to keep U.S. militarists from barging into Vietnam had been brainwashed.

Whether or not these militarists brainwashed Lyndon Johnson is indeterminate. Sen. Morton thinks that must have happened. One thing sure — something happened.

TRUMAN TWILL

Letter From Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: We are well here and know you are the same.

What do you think about the brainwashing rhubarb? Doesn't it beat all the way we discover the obvious, like babies discovering their own belly buttons?

Anyone who tries to persuade someone else to see something his way now is accused of brainwashing. The governor of Michigan says he was brainwashed on a taxpayer-financed junket to Asia. The Johnson administration then lets it be known the governor must have brainwashed mighty easy, meaning he must be a political retardee.

Brainwashing means setting up mental reflexes by scientific means — reflexes the individual cannot control, like his own knee jerks.

It is more complicated than the reaction that makes a super-patriot see a Communist under every bed, or a Southern gentleman think every male with a dark skin is plotting to do something terrible to the next white woman he meets.

The Russians and the Chinese are credited with developing brainwashing to a near-science, but they merely have been more systematic about it than people who have practiced brainwashing as an art.

The trouble always has been that each new generation had to be brainwashed all over again, if the idea is to make everybody react the same way.

This isn't as easy as it used to be when there weren't so many of us — and when most of us were brought up in a controlled environment. That's why we now have so many kooks on the scene. All a kook is, in most cases, is someone who never was taught any standard social reflexes, so he reverts to type.

He gets dirty and neglects his appearance. He behaves like an errant kid. He does bad things to himself. He goes wild.

The irony is that he is so tickled about asserting his independence that he ends up brainwashing himself and his kind just as thoroughly as if all of them had gone to the same military academy and learned the same things by rote.

I read the other day where someone said whoever never had tried to brainwash anyone else was entitled to throw the first stone. Poor Mr. Johnson. Poor Gov. Romney. Poor dead soldiers. Poor maimed soldiers. Poor taxpayers.

We all listened once more to those perennial practitioners of brainwashing — the militarists who from time immemorial have told us they could settle everything if we'd let them blast everybody who disagreed with them.

COTTON CORNERS UNCLE GEORGE

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Since the rebellion on the part of the striking truck owners and drivers, many people have begun to ask questions about a business that has been taken for granted as a convenience.

People are asking what does this phase of transportation mean?

First of all it means these men have stuck their necks out for a debt of between $20,000 to $30,000 to buy their rigs. It means they have invested from 35 to 50 ordinary car licenses for the privilege of running over the road.

It means the federal government is going to charge them a highway use tax for the same privileges. It means they must buy a PUCO stamp. It means they must buy permits for the different states they travel over.

It means they must pay the highest insurance rates. When the ordinary car fills up with 20 gallons of gas, the big trucks put a hundred gallons of fuel in their tanks.

They pay gasoline tax on an awful lot of gasoline. It means the truckers are paying the greater part of the revenue that builds the roads.

The truck owner or broker gets 72 per cent of the revenue for hauling the loads. Out of this he paid all their costs, and if the owner does not drive his rig, he must pay his driver 24 per cent. The company gets 28 per cent. The owner must pay for and keep up his equipment, and he is responsible for delivery of the load in good and acceptable condition.

These striking drivers and owners have done a good job. But they are no longer satisfied to work under negligent conditions that constitute long hours of waiting inside mills for loads with no pay. They feel they should have a larger share of the revenue than they get.

Every truck, no difference, company or individually owned, will benefit from this work stoppage.

VICTOR RIESEL

Kennedy Won't Buck Johnson

..NEW YORK: — In a series of eyeball to eyeball private conversations, Bob Kennedy has told occasional visitors, including myself and a sophisticated labor type or two, that whatever his critics think of him, they don't think him "stupid." And that it would be sheer stupidity — of the kind in which the Kennedys don't specialize — to buck Lyndon Johnson in '68.

Victor Riesel

In that flat, somewhat staccato fashion of his, the Senator says that the labor people in particular should know better than to believe he would seek the '68 nomination or that he would take it if he could get it. Such action would rip the Democratic party apart.

Yet at this minute, in this town, his own lieutenants are launching a dump-Johnson drive. These are men who are more than torchbearers of the Kennedy cult. They are men who are considered by knowledgeable labor strategists and leaders of both parties to be his personal whips in state politics.

THEY ARE MEN, according to the lore here, who would not lift a phone on a vital mission unless it were cleared by the anonymously brilliant infighter, Bob's brother - in - law Stephen Smith. Typical are two reform Democrats — State Assemblymen Jerome Kretchmer and Albert H. Blumenthal. They are gleaming hot pistone in the junk-Johnson machine. They are men whose joint office was just down the hall from Steve Smith's 42nd Street headquarters during Bob Kennedy's 1964 campaign for the Senate. You just walked along a second floor corridor, passed the door of Kretchmer and Blumenthal, and reached Steve Smith's sanctum.

So it is not likely that men such as Kretchmer and Blumenthal would — without Bob Kennedy's or Steve Smith's permission — spark a dump-Johnson caucus as they did the other night.

THIS ADDS UP TO quite a puzzlement for the Johnson forces here — a coalition of labor leaders, party regulars and Ambassador Arthur Goldberg. What, they ask therefore, does Bob Kennedy really want?

They believe he positively does not want the nomination in '68. They know he will stay "regular." They are positive he will not lead a floor fight against Mr. Johnson nor will he back the drive in New York for an anti-Johnson delegation to the nominating convention.

Any fight against President Johnson would cost Kennedy all chances of labor support for many an election to come. Let no one make any mistake about the significance of such a loss. The AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) is the nation's best organized, most far-flung, sagely scientific political machinery. Without COPE, its money, manpower and interlocked media, no Democratic presidential candidate could unleash a successful campaign.

Sen. Kennedy knows t his. For some two years now he has tried to build labor strength here. But despite the charm and intensity of his labor specialist, Tim Hogan, Bob still gets the freeze.

So to fight Hubert Humphrey for the nomination would mean hitting a mighty muscled labor line — and bouncing off. If labor goes, so would hundreds of congressional candidates and precinct people who line up for labor support each election year.

There are, of course, other forces which would fragment the party if Kennedy maneuvered for the nomination. He won't. Not until 1972.

Why then are his peple unleashing Operation Dump Johnson?

Among political insiders the belief is that the dump-Johnson movement is not designed to keep the President from being renominated — but to defeat him. They could so splinter the New York liberal-labor Democratic coalition that the President could lose New York. Without the Empire State — and without California, which seems inevitable — the "ticket" would lose, reckon the movement's "reform" leaders.

THEN EVERYBODY WOULD regroup around Bob Kennedy in '69, launch a "save-the-party" campaign, and take it over in the '70 gubernatorial and congressional elections right across the nation. And no one, not even the labor movement, could buck Bob for the '72 nomination.

It's all long-range. But it is as immediate as last Tuesday's caucus here.

But insiders see Mr. Johnson moving, too. His field commander, some say, is the ambassador who roves across many fields — Arthur Goldberg. In coming weeks, Mr. Goldberg will also talk at the Liberal Party forum, Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation Annual Banquet which is sponsored by His Eminence, Cardinal Spellman. In quick succession Goldberg will also talk at the Libera Party forum, the Jewish Labor Committee convention and the Four Freedoms award dinner just to mention a few events of the next few weeks.

If it is necessary to boster the Johnson-Humphrey slate, the President will not hesitate to ask "Arthur" to run for the U.S. Senate against Sen. Jack Javits. Of course, Bob Kennedy would have to back such a ticket. And actively, too.

Ambassador Goldberg is labor's pride and joy. They'd go for broke for him, as well as the President. And probably elect him, too, and thus save the state in '68 for Lyndon Johnson.

So perhaps the strategic sense of the pro-Kennedy forces isn't as long-range as their ambitions.

Self-Reform?

If there is such a thing as a "code of ethics" in public life, two news items would indicate not much attention is being paid to it, either by lawmakers in Congress or by officials at the Department of Justice who are supposed to enforce existing laws.

One item appeared a few days ago in a Washington dispatch to The New York Times:

"A number of lobbyists for government-regulated transportation industries were invited by the Democratic National Committee to attend an informal reception for Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd . . . in a private club in Georgetown.

"There they were urged by Mr. Boyd to support President Johnson for another term in office. Then after the secretary left, they were asked by a committee official to buy thousand-dollar-a-couple tickets to a party fund-raising dinner and dance here on Oct. 7."

THERE IS NOTHING in existing statutes that forbids the administration in power from gathering together some or all of the lobbyists in Washington and asking them for funds to support the re-election of an incumbent president.

But should Washington representatives of government-regulated companies or corporations seeking or holding government contracts be placed in the position of helping to raise funds for political campaigns?

The other item was an announcement by the National Right To Work Committee in Washington:

"A careful examination of the record reveals that labor unions spent more than $100 million on politics in the six months preceding the 1964 election — the most recent presidential election. Some well-informed persons in the union movement estimate that more than 50 per cent of the $923 million annual dues income actually goes for political purposes."

As for the estimate of $100 million spent by labor unions, the courts have held that unions may use dues for so-called "educational activities," such as getting people to register, or urging voters to go to the polls once they have registered, or giving them the voting records of members of Congress on union matters.

Union claims they collect all of their funds for federal election campaigns on a voluntary" basis — contributions form members, not dues money.

They contend there is no law violaton if they spend dues money on local or state elections or on the so-called "educational" efforts in national politics. When, of course, a union member is urged to vote the "straight ticket," the benefits thereof go to the party nominees for all offices.

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act says:

"It is unlawful for any national bank, or any corporation organized by authority of any law of Congress, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election to any political office, or in connection with any primary election or political conventon or caucus held to select candidates for any political office, or for any corporation whatever, or any labor organization to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election at which presidential and vice presidential electors or a senator or representative in, or a delegate or resident commissioner to Congress are to be voted for, or in connection with any primary election or political convention or caucus held to select candidates for any of the foregoing offices, or for any candidate, political committee, or other person to accept or receive any contribution prohibited by this section."

EVERYTHING depends on what one regards as a "contribution."

The federal statute denies a "contribution" as "anything of value," which presumably includes time away from one's job but paid for by the employer.

Presumably, the Right To Work Committee added up all the salaries paid by labor unions in a year and assumed the staff members worked at least six weeks in connection with elections. The press release, by including "education" and "get-out-the-votes" efforts, estimates a sizeable expenditure was made by labor unions.

Unless public opinion is aroused over obvious conflicts with a "code of ethics" in politics, very little will be done about it by legislators.

And that it would be sheer stupidity — of the kind in which the Kennedys don't specialize — to buck Lyndon Johnson in '68.

Victor Riesel

In that flat, somewhat staccato fashion of his, the Senator says that the labor people in particular should know better than to believe he would seek the '68 nomination or that he would take it if he could get it. Such action would rip the Democratic party apart.

Yet at this minute, in this town, his own lieutenants are launching a dump-Johnson drive. These are men who are more than torchbearers of the Kennedy cult. They are men who are considered by knowledgeable labor strategists and leaders of both parties to be his personal whips in state politics.

THEY ARE MEN, according to the lore here, who would not lift a phone on a vital mission unless it were cleared by the anonymously brilliant infighter, Bob's brother - in - law Stephen Smith. Typical are two reform Democrats — State Assemblymen Jerome Kretchmer and Albert H. Blumenthal. They are gleaming hot pistone in the junk-Johnson machine. They are men whose joint office was just down the hall from Steve Smith's 42nd Street headquarters during Bob Kennedy's 1964 campaign for the Senate. You just walked along a second floor corridor, passed the door of Kretchmer and Blumenthal, and reached Steve Smith's sanctum.

So it is not likely that men such as Kretchmer and Blumenthal would — without Bob Kennedy's or Steve Smith's permission — spark a dump-Johnson caucus as they did the other night.

THIS ADDS UP TO quite a puzzlement for the Johnson forces here — a coalition of labor leaders, party regulars and Ambassador Arthur Goldberg. What, they ask therefore, does Bob Kennedy really want?

They believe he positively does not want the nomination in '68. They know he will stay "regular." They are positive he will not lead a floor fight against Mr. Johnson nor will he back the drive in New York for an anti-Johnson delegation to the nominating convention.

Any fight against President Johnson would cost Kennedy all chances of labor support for many an election to come. Let no one make any mistake about the significance of such a loss. The AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) is the nation's best organized, most far-flung, sagely scientific political machinery. Without COPE, its money, manpower and interlocked media, no Democratic presidential candidate could unleash a successful campaign.

Sen. Kennedy knows t his. For some two years now he has tried to build labor strength here. But despite the charm and intensity of his labor specialist, Tim Hogan, Bob still gets the freeze.

So to fight Hubert Humphrey for the nomination would mean hitting a mighty muscled labor line — and bouncing off. If labor goes, so would hundreds of congressional candidates and precinct people who line up for labor support each election year.

There are, of course, other forces which would fragment the party if Kennedy maneuvered for the nomination. He won't. Not until 1972.

Why then are his peple unleashing Operation Dump Johnson?

Among political insiders the belief is that the dump-Johnson movement is not designed to keep the President from being renominated — but to defeat him. They could so splinter the New York liberal-labor Democratic coalition that the President could lose New York. Without the Empire State — and without California, which seems inevitable — the "ticket" would lose, reckon the movement's "reform" leaders.

THEN EVERYBODY WOULD regroup around Bob Kennedy in '69, launch a "save-the-party" campaign, and take it over in the '70 gubernatorial and congressional elections right across the nation. And no one, not even the labor movement, could buck Bob for the '72 nomination.

It's all long-range. But it is as immediate as last Tuesday's caucus here.

But insiders see Mr. Johnson moving, too. His field commander, some say, is the ambassador who roves across many fields — Arthur Goldberg. In coming weeks, Mr. Goldberg will also talk at the Liberal Party forum, Alfred E. Smith Memorial Foundation Annual Banquet which is sponsored by His Eminence, Cardinal Spellman. In quick succession Goldberg will also talk at the Libera Party forum, the Jewish Labor Committee convention and the Four Freedoms award dinner just to mention a few events of the next few weeks.

If it is necessary to boster the Johnson-Humphrey slate, the President will not hesitate to ask "Arthur" to run for the U.S. Senate against Sen. Jack Javits. Of course, Bob Kennedy would have to back such a ticket. And actively, too.

Ambassador Goldberg is labor's pride and joy. They'd go for broke for him, as well as the President. And probably elect him, too, and thus save the state in '68 for Lyndon Johnson.

So perhaps the strategic sense of the pro-Kennedy forces isn't as long-range as their ambitions.

Berry's World

"Sure, there are lots of possibilities, but it's got to be Rocky—he's the most emphatic about not being interested in the nomination!"

DAVID LAWRENCE

Self-Reform?

If there is such a thing as a "code of ethics" in public life, two news items would indicate not much attention is being paid to it, either by lawmakers in Congress or by officials at the Department of Justice who are supposed to enforce existing laws.

One item appeared a few days ago in a Washington dispatch to The New York Times:

"A number of lobbyists for government-regulated transportation industries were invited by the Democratic National Committee to attend an informal reception for Transportation Secretary Alan S. Boyd . . . in a private club in Georgetown.

"There they were urged by Mr. Boyd to support President Johnson for another term in office. Then after the secretary left, they were asked by a committee official to buy thousand-dollar-a-couple tickets to a party fund-raising dinner and dance here on Oct. 7."

THERE IS NOTHING in existing statutes that forbids the administration in power from gathering together some or all of the lobbyists in Washington and asking them for funds to support the re-election of an incumbent president.

But should Washington representatives of government-regulated companies or corporations seeking or holding government contracts be placed in the position of helping to raise funds for political campaigns?

The other item was an announcement by the National Right To Work Committee in Washington:

"A careful examination of the record reveals that labor unions spent more than $100 million on politics in the six months preceding the 1964 election — the most recent presidential election. Some well-informed persons in the union movement estimate that more than 50 per cent of the $923 million annual dues income actually goes for political purposes."

As for the estimate of $100 million spent by labor unions, the courts have held that unions may use dues for so-called "educational activities," such as getting people to register, or urging voters to go to the polls once they have registered, or giving them the voting records of members of Congress on union matters.

Union claims they collect all of their funds for federal election campaigns on a voluntary" basis — contributions form members, not dues money.

They contend there is no law violaton if they spend dues money on local or state elections or on the so-called "educational" efforts in national politics. When, of course, a union member is urged to vote the "straight ticket," the benefits thereof go to the party nominees for all offices.

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act says:

"It is unlawful for any national bank, or any corporation organized by authority of any law of Congress, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election to any political office, or in connection with any primary election or political conventon or caucus held to select candidates for any political office, or for any corporation whatever, or any labor organization to make a contribution or expenditure in connection with any election at which presidential and vice presidential electors or a senator or representative in, or a delegate or resident commissioner to Congress are to be voted for, or in connection with any primary election or political convention or caucus held to select candidates for any of the foregoing offices, or for any candidate, political committee, or other person to accept or receive any contribution prohibited by this section."

EVERYTHING depends on what one regards as a "contribution."

The federal statute denies a "contribution" as "anything of value," which presumably includes time away from one's job but paid for by the employer.

Presumably, the Right To Work Committee added up all the salaries paid by labor unions in a year and assumed the staff members worked at least six weeks in connection with elections. The press release, by including "education" and "get-out-the-votes" efforts, estimates a sizeable expenditure was made by labor unions.

Unless public opinion is aroused over obvious conflicts with a "code of ethics" in politics, very little will be done about it by legislators.

According to Police Chief Edward Frankovitch, Ravnall "could not give a very good accounting of how he got shot."

Nagy, 55, owner of Chuck's grill, was shot to death Wednesday when he and his wife were attacked by an unknown number of men as they left their home for the tavern. Frankovitch said Nagy was carrying $39,000 to be used in cashing payroll checks for employes of the Weirton Steel Corp.

Mrs. Nagy was treated at the hospital for bruises received in a scuffle before she escaped and ran to a neighbor's house.

There was an exchange of gunfire at the scene, but police have not said how many shots were fired.

Lisbon Kiwanis Hears Lower

'Cleanliness' Impressed Group On European Tour

LISBON — The neatness and cleanliness of Europeans and their ccommunities made a strong impression last month on a people - to - people air tour led by Floyd Lower of Lisbon.

He summarized his impressions Thursday noon for fellow Kiwanians during their weekly luncheon in the VFW McKinley Room.

"I see more men in dirty clothes in one day on the streets of Lisbon than I saw the entire three weeks overseas," he said.

The tour was not an ordinary vacation trip, he said, but meeting and mixing with people, primarily farmers, in Belgium, Holland, the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Switzerland and Spain.

Lower said the residents were "friendly and courteous — we got the feeling they have a high regard for Americans."

He said he saw "perhaps 100 times more cars" on the streets of Moscow than when he was there two years ago as a member of a people - to - people group.

Lower said it is his opinion "lack of incentive and inefficiency of labor" are weaknesses in Communist countries, especially on the collective farms. By contrast, he said, the individually - owned garden plots which constitute only 3 per cent of the USSR cropland produce one - third of the food supply.

The club adopted a resolution in memory of George L. Lafferty, who died Sept. 12.

Myers announced committee assignments for three new members — Howard Rose, agriculture and conservation; George Vokovich, finance, and Pete Geiger, Key Club.

'Barroom Attitude' In Court Leads To Jail Terms For 3

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff changed charges in mid - hearing today against three young men he accused of "acting as though you were in a barroom" and gave them fines that will keep them in County Jail 35 days each on intoxication charges.

Daniel R. Taylor, 20, of 220 W. 2nd St., Lee R. Stull, 19, of 1112 Fair St. and Ronald L. Greathouse, 18, of Francis St. each were fined $100 and costs on intoxication charges under state law and ordered remanded to County Jail at Lisbon in default.

In addition, Greathouse was fined another $100 and costs on a second charge of resisting arrest.

The three were arrested Thursday night at 8:25 outside the Diamond Restaurant on the Diamond by Patrolman David K. Mumaw, assisted by Patrolman William A. Devon. They were charged initially under the city ordinance.

Judge Chertoff first disposed of the cases of Taylor and Stull, fining them $15 and costs each after they pleaded guilty to the intoxication charges.

Then he took up Greathouse's case. The defendant slouched against the bench and leaned his elbows on the judge's desk. Queried by the judge, he said he had become intoxicated "on 3.2 beer."

Then the judge announced he would have all the charges changed and filed under the state code, which allows much stiffer penalties for intoxication.

He called the attitude of the defendants "disgraceful" and "disgusting."

"You have been acting as though you were in a barroom rather than a courtroom," he said. "When you are in a court of law you are supposed to conduct yourself as a gentleman, although I don't think any of you are old enough to have reached that status."

Officer Mumaw testified he was dispatched to the Diamond Restaurant to investigate a complaint. He said he found all three defendants standing outside, leaning against a big plate glass window. When he told the three to "move on," they did not comply, he added.

Taylor was "in a daze" from drinking, so he was placed under arrest, the officers said. Stull asked to be arrested too, to go to jail with his friend. After he was taken into custody, Greathouse started a disurbance and resisted arrest, the office said.

Employes of chinaware plants are covered by a separate pact. The current chinaware agreement, signed in June 1965, extends until February 1968. It covers a number of vitrified china plants in Ohio and Pennsylvania and nearby states, including Sterling China Co. and Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville.

Hospital, where he is recovering from surgery performed Wednesday. He was picked up by police about a half - hour after the alleged slaying with two bullet wounds in his stomach.

According to Police Chief Edward Frankovitch, Ravnall "could not give a very good accounting of how he got shot."

Nagy, 55, owner of Chuck's grill, was shot to death Wednesday when he and his wife were attacked by an unknown number of men as they left their home for the tavern. Frankovitch said Nagy was carrying $39,000 to be used in cashing payroll checks for employes of the Weirton Steel Corp.

Mrs. Nagy was treated at the hospital for bruises received in a scuffle before she escaped and ran to a neighbor's house.

There was an exchange of gunfire at the scene, but police have not said how many shots were fired.

No date has been set for Ravnall's release from the hospital, where he is being held under guard.

Police are continuing their search for the other men reportedly involved in the attempted robbery.

sponsibility," and a final action on awarding the contract may be made in 30 days.

The bid opening marked the second time efforts have been made to let a contract for the new building along Dresden Ave.

Under the terms of the agreement, the contractor is to purchase the tract and erect the one-story brick and concrete structure, leasing it back to the government for 20 years with options on six 5-year leases afterward.

Only one bid was received at the initial opening in April and it did not meet the legal requirements.

Lisbon Kiwanis Hears Lower

'Cleanliness' Impressed Group On European Tour

LISBON — The neatness and cleanliness of Europeans and their ccommunities made a strong impression last month on a people - to - people air tour led by Floyd Lower of Lisbon.

He summarized his impressions Thursday noon for fellow Kiwanians during their weekly luncheon in the VFW McKinley Room.

"I see more men in dirty clothes in one day on the streets of Lisbon than I saw the entire three weeks overseas," he said.

The tour was not an ordinary vacation trip, he said, but meeting and mixing with people, primarily farmers, in Belgium, Holland, the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Switzerland and Spain.

Lower said the residents were "friendly and courteous — we got the feeling they have a high regard for Americans."

He said he saw "perhaps 100 times more cars" on the streets of Moscow than when he was there two years ago as a member of a people - to - people group.

Lower said it is his opinion "lack of incentive and inefficiency of labor" are weaknesses in Communist countries, especially on the collective farms. By contrast, he said, the individually - owned garden plots which constitute only 3 per cent of the USSR cropland produce one - third of the food supply.

The club adopted a resolution in memory of George L. Lafferty, who died Sept. 12.

Myers announced committee assignments for three new members — Howard Rose, agriculture and conservation; George Vokovich, finance, and Pete Geiger, Key Club.

'Barroom Attitude' In Court Leads To Jail Terms For 3

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff changed charges in mid - hearing today against three young men he accused of "acting as though you were in a barroom" and gave them fines that will keep them in County Jail 35 days each on intoxication charges.

Daniel R. Taylor, 20, of 220 W. 2nd St., Lee R. Stull, 19, of 1112 Fair St. and Ronald L. Greathouse, 18, of Francis St. each were fined $100 and costs on intoxication charges under state law and ordered remanded to County Jail at Lisbon in default.

In addition, Greathouse was fined another $100 and costs on a second charge of resisting arrest.

The three were arrested Thursday night at 8:25 outside the Diamond Restaurant on the Diamond by Patrolman David K. Mumaw, assisted by Patrolman William A. Devon. They were charged initially under the city ordinance.

Judge Chertoff first disposed of the cases of Taylor and Stull, fining them $15 and costs each after they pleaded guilty to the intoxication charges.

Then he took up Greathouse's case. The defendant slouched against the bench and leaned his elbows on the judge's desk. Queried by the judge, he said he had become intoxicated "on 3.2 beer."

Then the judge announced he would have all the charges changed and filed under the state code, which allows much stiffer penalties for intoxication.

He called the attitude of the defendants "disgraceful" and "disgusting."

"You have been acting as though you were in a barroom rather than a courtroom," he said. "When you are in a court of law you are supposed to conduct yourself as a gentleman, although I don't think any of you are old enough to have reached that status."

Officer Mumaw testified he was dispatched to the Diamond Restaurant to investigate a complaint. He said he found all three defendants standing outside, leaning against a big plate glass window. When he told the three to "move on," they did not comply, he added.

Taylor was "in a daze" from drinking, so he was placed under arrest, the officers said. Stull asked to be arrested too, to go to jail with his friend. After he was taken into custody, Greathouse started a disurbance and resisted arrest, the office said.

Dec. 1. Affecting 4,000 employes in the East Liverpool area and others in three more Ohio and Pennsylvania plants, it granted a 13-cent hourly "package." It replaced a three-year pact which was to have expired Dec. 1, 1965.

The contract affected workers at the Homer Laughlin China Co., Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Harker China Co. and Hall China Co., all in the East Liverpool area, the Salem China Co. at Salem, the Royal China Co. at Sebring and the Cannonsburg Pottery Co. at Cannonsburg, Pa.

Employes of chinaware plants are covered by a separate pact. The current chinaware agreement, signed in June 1965, extends until February 1968. It covers a number of vitrified china plants in Ohio and Pennsylvania and nearby states, including Sterling China Co. and Wellsville China Co., both of Wellsville.

Glenn B. Beagle of 165 Fawcett St. said he was driving downgrade when his car was struck by an auto moving uphill at a high rate of speed. The entire left side of Beagle's car was scratched.

A mishap Thursday at 2:18 p. m. on E. 5th St. at Crook Alley damaged a 1960 two - door sedan driven by Barbara Lucas, 26, of 714 Bradshaw Ave. and a 1963 four - foor sedan operated by Thomas J. Reed, 19, of Radio Heights.

The next meeting will be Oct. 10.

Flower Bed Going To Pot

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) —The flower bed outside Salt Lake City Hall was going to pot, city officials discovered Thursday.

A team of rather grim reapers—headed by Mayor J. Bracken Lee-dourly supervised removal of three marijuana plants from amid the city's well-groomed blossom patch and Police Capt. J. L. Smith said the pot would be replanted—in pots — by police lab men "to see how long it will grow."

Largest of the marijuana plants was two feet high. Smith said the city parks department planted the garden. He theorized someone else tossed the pot in later.

Pope Formally Opens Synod Of 300 Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI formally opened today a synod of nearly 200 Bishops from all parts of the world in an experiment to help him govern the half-billion-member Roman Catholic Church more democratically.

Looking greatly recovered from the urinary illness that struck him earlier this month, the 70-year old pontiff went to St. Peter's basilica to celebrate the opening Mass, give his blessing and invoke divine guidance.

The gathering, to last a month or more, is expected to be the scene of basic conflicts over the direction the Church is taking following the second Vatican Council that closed in December 1965.

The prelates, most of them democratically elected by fellow bishops in their countries, will take on predetermined topics including mixed marriages, liturgy, dangers to the faith, canon law and seminary training. They are also expected to raise other subjects among the most controversial in the Church, such as priestly celibacy and birth control.

The mixed-marriage topic, especially important because of moves toward unity of Christian denominations, involves the Vatican's insistence that children of such marriages be raised as Catholics and that the ceremonies be performed by Catholic priests.

Priestly celibacy and birth control could be among the synod's most explosive issues. Pope Paul has reaffirmed the 15-century-old rule of celibacy for priests but some priests feel there is still a possibility of change.

Toronto Area Woman Penalized For Theft

Brenda Mae Board of Toronto RD 2 was fined $200 and costs and setnenced to a seven-day jail term Thursday by Judge D. Barry Dickson in Eastern County Court at East Palestine on a charge she stole an $8.95 dress Sept. 15 at Hill's Department Store in St. Clair Plaza, but the court suspended the fine and six days of the jail term following a plea in mitigation from the defendant.

The defendant was placed on two years' probation. She was apprehended by Lester McElhaney.

Meanwhile, the judge continued the scheduled arraignment of Margie Jean Mosser of East Palestine, accused of writing a fraudulent $35 check on the account of John Harding of Wood St., East Palestine. Bond was set at $1,500. She was apprehended by Police Chief Wallace Dilworth of East Palestine.

Flower Bed Going To Pot

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) —The flower bed outside Salt Lake City Hall was going to pot, city officials discovered Thursday.

A team of rather grim reapers—headed by Mayor J. Bracken Lee-dourly supervised removal of three marijuana plants from amid the city's well-groomed blossom patch and Police Capt. J. L. Smith said the pot would be replanted—in pots — by police lab men "to see how long it will grow."

Largest of the marijuana plants was two feet high. Smith said the city parks department planted the garden. He theorized someone else tossed the pot in later.

Pope Formally Opens Synod Of 300 Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI formally opened today a synod of nearly 200 Bishops from all parts of the world in an experiment to help him govern the half-billion-member Roman Catholic Church more democratically.

Looking greatly recovered from the urinary illness that struck him earlier this month, the 70-year old pontiff went to St. Peter's basilica to celebrate the opening Mass, give his blessing and invoke divine guidance.

The gathering, to last a month or more, is expected to be the scene of basic conflicts over the direction the Church is taking following the second Vatican Council that closed in December 1965.

The prelates, most of them democratically elected by fellow bishops in their countries, will take on predetermined topics including mixed marriages, liturgy, dangers to the faith, canon law and seminary training. They are also expected to raise other subjects among the most controversial in the Church, such as priestly celibacy and birth control.

The mixed-marriage topic, especially important because of moves toward unity of Christian denominations, involves the Vatican's insistence that children of such marriages be raised as Catholics and that the ceremonies be performed by Catholic priests.

Priestly celibacy and birth control could be among the synod's most explosive issues. Pope Paul has reaffirmed the 15-century-old rule of celibacy for priests but some priests feel there is still a possibility of change.

The defendant was placed on two years' probation. She was apprehended by Lester McElhaney.

Meanwhile, the judge continued the scheduled arraignment of Margie Jean Mosser of East Palestine, accused of writing a fraudulent $35 check on the account of John Harding of Wood St., East Palestine. Bond was set at $1,500. She was apprehended by Police Chief Wallace Dilworth of East Palestine.

Representatives of eight East Liverpool district fire departments will meet Monday night at 7:30 in the Ohio Valley Gas Co.'s service center at Glenmoor to discuuss the program for the local observance of National Fire Prevention Week Oct. 8-14.

The district observance is sponsored jointly by the safety committee of the Chamber of Commerce, the East Liverpool Fire Department and Local 24, International Association of Fire Fighters.

The meeting Monday will draw representatives of the local department as well as the Liverpool Township East and West, Calcutta, Glenmoor, Chester, Newell and Lawrenceville fire forces.

The fire department representatives will explain their plans for the observance. They will receive promotional literature for the drive, including posters for window display and check lists for examining homes and business places for fire hazards.

A film on fire prevention, obtained by from the state fire marshal's office in Columbus through the local department, also wil be screened and refreshments will be served.

The program is an annual project of the Chamber's safety committee. It is staged in cooperation with the U.S. Chamber, the National Fire Protection Association and the American Insurance Association.

The safety committee is comprised of Samuel Brown, chairman, H. J. English, John B. Hales, Alex Kidd, Richard W. Lee, Phil Miraglata, Don R. McGillivray, James Walker and Harold Sneddon.

Conference Planned On 9th St. Bridge Job

East Liverpool officials have been invited to pre-construction conference Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia as a prelude to erection of an auto-pedestrian ramp to link together the dead-end sections of W. 9th St. and span the California Hollow Freeway.

The A. P. O'Horo Co. of Youngstown was awarded the contract for the job by the department's central office at Columbus on the basis of its low bid of $252,867 filed on Sept. 19.

The date for start of construction probably will be announced as officials of the highway department, the contractor and the city talk over the last preparations for the job.

Fire Destroys Barn; Loss Fixed At $4,000

LISBON — Wind - fanned flames destroyed a pole - type barn Wednesday evening at the George and Michael Kernich farm on Cream Ridge Rd., six miles southeast of here.

The owners set their loss at $4,000, including a truck, tractor and 700 bales of new straw. George Kernich drove a second tractor out of the barn. The owners said they have insurance.

Lisbon volunteer firemen said the origin of the fire has not been determined.

The one - year old building with aluminum sides and roof was beyond saving when they arrived. They stood by to protect the house and a nearby gasoline storage tank. A neighbor's pond provided water for the tanker.

Ohio Turnpike interchange on Ohio 18 seven miles west of Youngstown.

Crater said a car pulled abreast of the cruiser and fired a shot that went through the side windows, barely missing him. He took up pursuit, was shot at again and lost control.

The deputy was unhurt, even though the sheriff's car ended in the ditch.

He was unable to tell the make and year of the car but managed to get a few digits of the license number.

A Monaca, Pa. truck driver was treated at Youngstown South Side Hospital Thursday night for cuts on his hands here and a rock hurled through the window.

The driver, John Shaffer, 29, said the incident occurred on the Cedar Street bridge in Youngstown where a shot was fired from a compact car. After the shot, he said the man in the car threw the rock. Shaffer was treated and released.

Two truck drivers also claimed they were beaten up at a gas station Thursday night on Ohio 5 near Warren in Trumbull County. The Ohio Highway Patrol said the two knew the identity of their assailants but refused to say who they were.

Toward the northwest part of the state in Wood County, Detroit trucker Norman McLaughlin, 25, said his truck was fired at on U. S. 20 near Ohio 199. There was damage to the outside mirror of the steel truck and deputies said a pellet gun probably was used.

Four Stark County men were arrested by the Highway Patrol Thursday night and charged with parking without lights within an intersection.

The men apparently were trying to halt truck traffic into Alliance on Ohio 173, the patrol said. The same four men were told to leave a spot near the the highway earlier Thursday when they held up a sign for passing truckers to see.

The sign read: "Steel Haulers Protest."

The patrol said the men parked their autos on an island in the middle of a triangular intersection, obstructing the view of traffic.

The four men posted bond and are due for a hearing in Alliance Municipal Court Monday.

Three rigs on the Pennsylvania Turnpike were pelted with rocks from passing cars, and another was splashed with paint from an overhead bridge.

Hoses were slashed on two other trucks as the drivers slept in their cabs. No one was hurt.

The truckers, estimated to number between 10,000 and 20,000 in eight states, want better terms from the companies to which they lease their trucks.

They complain that the union refuses to bargain for them. Their demands are a 6 per cent increase, to 79 per cent, in their share for each load hauled, and penalty pay for time spent waiting to load and unload.

Since the union is not backing the strike, it has been organized by dissidents and a total ban on steel hauling has been impossible to enforce.

Meanwhile, a Steubenville area man was fined $50 and costs Thursday night by Judge D. Barry Dickson in Eastern County Court at East Palestine on a charge of spilling oil on a highway.

Floyd Lee Moore, 43, of Steubenville RD 1 was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol after oil was spilled on the pavement on Route 7 at the Rogers Hill Wednesday morning. The patrol said the pavement was made hazardous by the oil and truckers were forced to detour around the spot on the berm. They said they found Moore five minutes after the incident on Route 7 north of Rogers, operating a pickup truck with oil trickling from the bed.

The East Palestine judge set hearings next week for three more truckers named in affidavits filed by Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan and accusing them of dropping nail - studded boards on Route 7 at Rogers.

Not guilty pleas were entered by all three defendants—Walter C. Johnston, 38, of Lisbon RD 3, James A. Palatinus, 25, of Petersburg RD 1 and William E. Witherstine, 32, of Mahoning Ave., Austintown.

All three were released on $500 bonds. The judge set a hearing Monday for Palatinus, Tuesday for Johnston and Wednesday for Witherstine.

Lone Mishap Listed By Highway Patrol

Only one area accident was reported Thursday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Susan Hoppel, 17, of Calcutta RD 2 told officers a baby in the front seat of her 1963 coupe attempted to stand up and as she reached to correct the child the car slid off the road and ran into a utility pole.

The accident occurred on Route 430. No citations or injuries were recorded.

REA Administrator Speaks

Halt In Flow Of Rural People To Cities Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration called for a halt in the flow of rural people to urban areas in a speech today before a regional conference of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

Norman M. Clapp, the administrator, spoke before Region 4 delegates representing 86 rural electric systems in Michigan, West Virginia, Indiana and Ohio.

He suggested one way for them to increase the number of jobs in their districts is to push for expansion of commercial outdoor recreation in rural areas. He said:

"The war against poverty and all its social ills must be waged wherever the poor and the underprivileged are found, but the best place is at the source—where they come from.

"And in the past two decades millions of such people have been cut loose from the land by the mechanization of agriculture.

"It would be far more effective to provide other opportunities for their employment in their home rural communities rather than force them to migrate to the cities were they only aggravate further the problems or urban congestion."

He then listed three main objectives of rural electrification;

"First, electric service must be generally available throughout rural America on an area coverage basis.

"Second, it must be available in quality and at a cost comparable to what is available in urban areas.

"Third, it must be available through sound, reliable, permanent systems and organizations to which people and business alike can look for continued service on into the future with complete confidence."

Clapp's speech then took on a political tone: "It takes a strong President to uphold our international commitments today in this troubled world, but uphold them we must."

Temperance Unit Asks Repeal Of Club Liquor Law

UCAAP has been fighting the new law since it was a bill before the legislature and presently has a case pending in Kanawha County Circuit Court asking for a declaratory judgment on the law's constitutionality.

The letter charged Alcohol Beverage Control Commissioner Clarence Elmore with allowing "flagrant advertising" by a new cocktail lounge in the Northern Panhandle, with licensing a club in Martinsburg which has the word "bar'" in its name and with permitting "plush supper clubs" to solicit memberships from diners "by having them sign a card with no charge whatsoever."

Facts and Fallacies about Jewelry

by W. D. ORR

FALLACY:

You can always tell watch quality by the number of jewels.

FACT:

Unfortunately, the number of jewels in a watch does not always prove quality. What is important here is the total of functional jewels, that is, those which are actually used to reduce friction. A few makers are guilty of adding jewels just to say that his is a 21-jewel watch.

CONCLUSION:

The world-famous names in our watch display are your guarantee of true quality. See us—for the best in time!

Temperance Unit Asks Repeal Of Club Liquor Law

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A temperance group has sent letters to state legislators asking for the repeal of the new private club liquor law which allows the sale of liquor by the drink in private clubs.

The letter was signed by Warren B. Moyer and the Rev. Elwood Fleming, president and director respectively of the United Church Alcohol Action Program.

UCAAP has been fighting the new law since it was a bill before the legislature and presently has a case pending in Kanawha County Circuit Court asking for a declaratory judgment on the law's constitutionality.

The letter charged Alcohol Beverage Control Commissioner Clarence Elmore with allowing "flagrant advertising" by a new cocktail lounge in the Northern Panhandle, with licensing a club in Martinsburg which has the word "bar'" in its name and with permitting "plush supper clubs" to solicit memberships from diners "by having them sign a card with no charge whatsoever."

Facts and Fallacies about Jewelry

by W. D. ORR

FALLACY:

You can always tell watch quality by the number of jewels.

FACT:

Unfortunately, the number of jewels in a watch does not always prove quality. What is important here is the total of functional jewels, that is, those which are actually used to reduce friction. A few makers are guilty of adding jewels just to say that his is a 21-jewel watch.

CONCLUSION:

The world-famous names in our watch display are your guarantee of true quality. See us—for the best in time!

U.F. Volunteers Sought

An appeal for volunteers to assist in a number of solicitation areas has been issued by United Fund leaders as preparations are made for the Oct 9 start of the annual drive.

Three of the division chairmen for the campaign are shown discussing details of their work: Left to right, Frank A. Arcuri, manager of the Thoroughfare Market who is East End chairman; Mrs. Basil J. Mangano, Newell chairman, and Atty. J. Michael Kapp, Public Service Division chairman.

Other division leaders announced by John Starkey and Robert Sauer, co - chairmen for the drive, are William Poe of the Potters Savings & Loan Co., professional division, and Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, special gifts.

Sauer also will serve as chairman of the Public Affairs Division.

Starkey said volunteer workers are still needed in the campaign for $125,000 to aid 15 community service agencies.

"It is hoped that sufficient workers can be recruited so that each will have no more than 10 contacts to make," Starkey and Sauer said.

"It is important to volunteer time as well as money contributions," they added.

The United Fund drive this year will be compressed into a two-week period—Oct. 9-21.

Trio Pickets At Lisbon On Support Pay

Three East Liverpool mothers and a grandmother stood on the Columbiana County Courthouse sidewalk at Lisbon this morning protesting an alleged "runaround" on the matter of support payments.

Mrs. Inez Mason, Mrs. Zelma Reed and Mrs. Mena Dean, the mothers, and Mrs. Dorothy Wotring carried signs reading: "Unfair to Mothers of Dependent Children (10,000 now)" and "Protest Juvenile Court, Support Division and Sheriff's Office."

Shivering in a cold mist, Mrs. Dean said: "We don't like being here; we aren't publicity seekers but we have to do something."

The mothers said they have not been able to get ordered support payments and their ex-husbands get away with it.

"My former husband has been gone 14 years and they never did anything although I told them where he was," Mrs. Reed said.

Mrs. Mason said she has written to public officials to look into the "situation here." She said her ex-husband pretends to be disabled and escapes punishment for non-support by appearing in court on crutches.

She said she hopes other mothers in the same situation will join a campaign to have "things cleaned up."

Grand Jurors Hit Police In Steubenville

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — The Jefferson County grand jury said Thursday there was inefficiency in the Steubenville Police Department and a "lack of cooperation" between police and the city administration.

The panel was asked by Common Pleas Court Judge John J. Griesinger to look into all aspects of law enforcement in the city.

The report said there was "no tangible evidence with respect to gambling and prostitution" in Steubenville or Jefferson County.

Police Chief Robert C. Cornelius was suspendede for 90 days by Mayor Andrew W. Miller, who claimed the chief had failed to rid the city of gambling and other illegal activities.

Cornelius has remained on the job while the city's Civil Service Commission holds hearings on the suspension.

The grand jury said enforcement should be against all forms of gambling, including bingo games, which are operated by various churches, lodges and fraternal organizations.

Seeks To Extend Political Influence

Soviet Offers Weapons To 3 Nations In Mideast

MOSCOW (AP) — Since the defeat of Soviet-armed Arabs by Israel in June, the Soviet Union has sought to draw more Arab nations into its arms-aid program and thus extend its political influence in the Middle East.

The Soviet Union has offered weapons and military training to three nations not previously in the Kremlin's arms program.

They are Sudan, where a Soviet military mission is now holding talks, Yemen, where talks were held last month, and Jordan, whose king is coming here Monday. Only Western-armed Jordan appears uninterested so far.

The Soviet Union has long been arming Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Algeria and Somalia.

Efforts to get more influence out of arms aid to Egypt are visible and there are reasons to expect them in some other nations, diplomatic observers say.

The Soviet press has severely criticized the Egyptian armed forces as having been led by right-wing sons of the landlord class rather than persons imbued with a Socialist spirit. The press here has openly suggested that changes are needed.

According to a Soviet source, the late Field Marshal Hakim Abdel Amer kept officers who had been trained in the Soviet Union from attaining important command positions. He mistrusted them. The sources suggested that this would now change.

The Soviet Union probably has little hope of being paid for the weapons it is sending to Middle Eastern nations. Most of the nations are having a hard time running their nonmilitary economies.

Only one underdeveloped nation now receiving Soviet weapons looks like a good prospect to pay for them. That is Iran, which agreed early this year to buy $110 million worth of military equipment and pay with piped natural gas.

The payment perhaps being sought in other countries is political influence, but such influence can be an uncertain element.

Life A Collector's Game

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Life is a collector's game.

Everybody has to play the game, whether he wants to or not. The problem is—what to collect? Shall it be stamps or dolls, wounds or portraits of old windmills, bruises or money?

There are hundreds of choices. So many, many things to collect. But there is one thing you can't go through this world without collecting—memories. And nothing else man collects is so precious to him.

Your own collection is pretty extensive if you can look back and remember when—

Airplane hostesses had so little to do they spent most of their time sitting in the seats and talking to the passengers.

A minister was more interested in getting the members of his congregation into heaven than in solving their problems on earth.

Ice skates had wooden runners instead of steel blades.

There was more nepotism in Hollywood than in Congress.

It was more fashionable for women to wear silver fox furs than mink.

One of the problems of motoring was putting up the car's isinglass and fabric curtains when the weather turned cold. A heater for automobiles? It was only an inventor's madcap dream.

George Ade made the nation laugh by remarking that one of the nice things about wearing white shoes was that they didn't show frost.

Conservatives were more fearful of Socialists than Communists because most of them, after all, hadn't ever seen a real live Communist.

The idol of childhood was the brawny neighborhood iceman, who drove a horse and wagon and always had a small chip of free ice for any kid—even if the kid was too shy to ask for one.

Only wealthy people belonged to country clubs and played golf.

It was taken for granted in most families that a farmer's sons would grow up to be farmers and a blacksmith's sons would become blacksmiths.

In every small town you could see a local character who wore a wooden leg he had whittled himself.

Children and Negroes were supposed to be seen, not heard—to know their place and stay in it.

Any schoolmarm caught smoking in public could kiss her job goodby.

There were still so many Civil War veterans around that they looked down their noses at the Spanish-American war veterans as young upstarts.

When the doctor made a home call, he was never so busy he couldn't pause for a cup of coffee in the kitchen, take the small children on his knee, and awe them by letting listen to their own heart beat through his stethoscope.

Come to think of it, almost everybody had more time to be courteous and kind and pleasant to one another then. They weren't so saddled by all kinds of urgencies.

Those were the days! Remember?

Seats Cited As Cause For Fewer Injuries

CLEVELAND (AP)—A state official says there might have been more Wickliffe school children injured in a Sept. 18 accident involving a truck and a school bus if seats had not bent and broken away. Twenty pupils were injured, none seriously. There were 62 on the bus.

Hanford Combs, chief of pupil transportation for the State Department of Education, said the fiberglass seats apparently acted as energy absorbing agents. Combs and other state officials and Ohio highway patrolmen questioned pupils who were on the bus when the collision occurred.

Rhodes Proposes 'Beefing Up' Of National Guard

JASPER, Ind. (AP)—Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, climaxing a whirlwind tour of Southern Indiana here Thursday night, said the National Guard should be strengthened instead of streamlined or reduced in size as proposed by the Defense Department.

Rhodes, who has called out the Guard to help quell rioting in several Ohio cities, told 2,000 Republicans at a rally:

"In Ohio, we pray daily that the Guard shall never again be called to answer disorder or riot, but at the same time, we want them fully prepared should they be needed."

Rhodes spoke earlier in the day at Evansville, and also visited several Indiana points of interests, including the Lincoln Boyhood Memorial in Spencer County, Santa Claus Land and Christmas Lake.

Rhodes said his trip was not to gain national political attention but to sell "Ohio to the nation and the world."

In Ohio, Rhodes said, "we have committed the largest amount of money in history to education at all levels."

"We have expanded vocational training in all areas of the state and today have the only two campus - type vocational training schools in the nation. We are working closely with industry to expand training and retraining opportunities," Rhode said.

Kiwanians Hear Dentist Discuss Keys To Success

Intensity of ambition was seen as a key to succes by Dr. Jay Kinsey in a talk before the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

The dentist spoke on "Guidelines To Success," saying everyone has some ambition but the degree of intensity and the direction are important.

He said major accomplishment generally comes after a smaller series of successes is achieved, but when one does not scatter energies among too many interests.

"Opportunity exists today just as it did in the time of Lincoln, of Marconi and other outstanding men."

Some of the needs for men wanting to realize their ambition is to overcome their own fears, to have initiative and not be restricted by "defensive" attitudes, and to have self-confidence in their own ability and powers.

Dr. Kinsey was introduced by Dayton Allen. Roy Cooper, president, was in charge.

Dean Spoils His Image

"This ain't no Andy Williams show with the milk and cookies. This is my show with the booze and broads," Dean Martin told a studio audience last Saturday just before taping another of his NBC hours.

Hal Humphrey

The line got the desired laugh from the studio audience, but the show that followed could destroy Dean's booze-and-broads image if he isn't more careful in the future.

It was his Christmas show (to be aired Dec. 21), and besides his wife Jeanne and all seven Martin offsprings there were Frank Sanatra and his three children.

THE CURRENT Mrs. Sinatra (Mia Farrow) didn't join in the Christmas carol singing finale, but reportedly was in another part of the studio watching it on a monitor.

This nepotic TV display of the Martins and Sinatras around a Christmas theme may sound like something a bit icky for some of you, but it really came off very entertainingly and in good taste, or so it seemed in the studio.

Dean and Frank worked well together, the latter apparently none the worse off after his recent dentistry resulting from being hit in the mouth at a Las Vegas gaming establishment.

In a medley of songs toward the end of the hour, the two of them did some improvised clowning which wouldn't have been particularly funny if they hadn't so obviously enjoyed doing it. The audience senses that and becomes infected, too. This capacity of theirs for enjoying what they do is a quality as important as the Martin and Sinatra talent.

-:-

WHILE on the subject of talent, it is interesting and somewhat amazing to see how much of it the Martin and Sintra progeny have inherited from their fathers. In this Christmas show Dean and Frank do numbers with their daughters Gail and Nancy then team up later with younger daughters Deanna (Martin) and Tina (Sinatra).

Both sets of daughters are attractive and can sing. Of course, no one knows how far their talents would have carried them without the names to get them past the right secretaries.

To further temper that booze-and-broads image, Dean and Frank also joined their sons, Dino and Frank Jr., in a song number, "How Do You Talk to Your Dad?"

The lyrics and melody weren't what might be termed memorable, but a lot of fans will get their kicks from watching the four together and debating whether the boys look and act like their fathers.

THE STUDIO AUDIENCE wasn't allowed to stay for the taping of the finale, which had the whole Martin clan, and all the Sinatras except Mia gathered around a Christmas tree where they took turns leading Christmas carols and announcing toy gifts to various youths' institutions.

Someone from NBC thought the reason for no audience was that Martin's two youngest, Ricci, 12, and Gina, 10, would be distracted.

Watching Martin and Sinatra work in this way (they rehearsed and taped the show in one day) gives the casual observer the impression they aren't working very hard.

To some extent that may be true, but it also is a mark of their professionalism. After as many years as they've put into their craft, both can and do draw upon a reservoir of experience which allows them the luxury of relaxing while they work.

They don't have to worry about the myriad details of a performance any more, because their experience has made those things second nature to them by now.

DEAN WENT right from doing this Christmas show Saturday into his next one on Sunday, and this weekend he is scheduled to tape two more.

His TV schedule is usually just one a week, but he soon begins the movie "Bandolero" with James Stewart, hence had to get ahead of TV shows.

So it isn't all golf or booze and broads as Dean likes to have his fans think, but, as mentioned at the beginning here, if he wants to keep up that illusion, then Dean had better not do any more family Christmas shows — even with Sinatra.

Hearing Set Oct. 6 In Coach's Stabbing

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A preliminary hearing for Willie Edward Dixon, 19, accused of first-degree manslaughter in the knife slaying Tuesday of a high school football coach, has been set for Oct. 6.

Police said Thomas Prinz, 21, was stabbed after he ordered Dixon—a high school dropout — off the sidelines during a football scrimmage session.

Dixon appeared before Municipal Court Judge James Krehbill Thursday with his attorney, Eugene Heblinski, and did not enter a plea, pending the preliminary hearing. His bond was set at $2,500.

Funeral rites for Prinz will be held today.

Teachers End 14-Day Strike In New York

Members of the striking AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers voted by more than 5 to 1 Thursday to accept a new $135 million contract with the Board of Education and end the classroom crisis.

Assessing the effects of the strike, school officials estimated it would cost the city some $10 million to $12 million in lost state aid. But it was also noted that the city did not spend $18 million in teachers' salaries during the walkout.

The Board of Education said it would decide next week what to do about making up lost time in instruction. Suggestions have included extending the school year into next July or making up time during nonreligious holidays and Easter vacation.

The new contract raises the wage scale to $6,750 to $13,750 a year for teachers over a 26 month period, from $5,400 to $11,950 per year.

The union also won reduction in some class sizes, revised machinery for handling disruptive children and an advisory role in some intensive experimental education programs.

Medical Mirror

LOW FOREHEAD

Q. I have a very low forehead. Is there any way to permanently remove the unwanted hair?

A. Wherever hair is situated there is only one method of permanent removal — destruction of the hair follicle by electrolysis or diathermy. On the lips and chin the results are fairly good, but some degree of scarring is difficult to avoid. On the forehead, where the skin is smoothly stretched over the bones, any degree of scarring would probably be quite conspicuous.

CESAREANS

Q. If cesarean section is harmless, why aren't all babies delivered this way?

A. Who said cesarean section is harmless? It is major surgery and involves increased hazard to the mother, to the child, and to future childbearing. There are medical indications for cesarean section. When these do not exist, normal vaginal delivery is best by far.

Thieu Urges U.S. To Stay Unified With His Country

SAIGON (AP) — Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu declared today South Vietnam is "on the threshold of a new era" and appealed to the United States to remain unified with his country and persevere against the Communists.

At a ceremony at which he helped dedicate the new $2.6 million U.S. Embassy in Saigon, Thieu said, "There is no challenge that cannot be met if we remain unified and persevere in our efforts."

As Thieu spoke, his government was threatened by a new political crisis involving the militant Buddhists headed by Thich (Venerable) Tri Quang. The militants are demanding withdrawal of a charter recognizing a moderate Buddhist faction as the country's established church, a demand Thieu said "we cannot accept."

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker said at the ceremony that the allies are making progress in South Vietnam. But he said the "true revolution" in this country depends on Vietnamese solutions to Vietnamese problems.

The 74-year-old Bunker reaffirmed America's commitment in South Vietnam and dedicated the all-white, six-story embassy building to "the cause of peace" and to Americans who have served in Vietnam.

The gathering included 28 ambassadors and other diplomatic representatives.

5 Others To Pick Up Strength

Computer Says 10 States To Lose Seats In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A computerized peek at the probable outcome of the 1970 census shows 10 states losing seats in the House of Representatives and 5 others picking up strength as a result.

California, which passed New York in population before the 1960s were half over, will increase its present 38-man delegation to 44 after the official count is made, according to Census Bureau projections.

And New York, after having had more representation than any other state since 1810, is not expected even to keep all its present 41 seats for the 1972 election Figure New York for 40, the Census Bureau says.

Besides California, here are the states the computer thinks will gain representation: Florida, two new seats, and New Jersey, Texas and Arizona, one seat each.

But divvying up the seats in Congress is a see-saw operation. When one state's membership in the House goes up, another's must come down.

The cuts will be concentrated largely in the Midwest. The losers in the Census Bureau forecast are Pennsylvania, two seats; West Virginia, one; and these Midwestern states, each slated to give up one seat: Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Iowa and North Dakota.

In the case of Ohio, the computer is hedging, unable to decide whether the loss will be one seat or two.

Census Bureau estimates indicate the population gain for the whole country will be about 15 per cent, rising from 179 million in 1960 to 206 million in 1970.

Teachers End 14-Day Strike In New York

Members of the striking AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers voted by more than 5 to 1 Thursday to accept a new $135 million contract with the Board of Education and end the classroom crisis.

Assessing the effects of the strike, school officials estimated it would cost the city some $10 million to $12 million in lost state aid. But it was also noted that the city did not spend $18 million in teachers' salaries during the walkout.

The Board of Education said it would decide next week what to do about making up lost time in instruction. Suggestions have included extending the school year into next July or making up time during nonreligious holidays and Easter vacation.

The new contract raises the wage scale to $6,750 to $13,750 a year for teachers over a 26 month period, from $5,400 to $11,950 per year.

The union also won reduction in some class sizes, revised machinery for handling disruptive children and an advisory role in some intensive experimental education programs.

Medical Mirror

LOW FOREHEAD

Q. I have a very low forehead. Is there any way to permanently remove the unwanted hair?

A. Wherever hair is situated there is only one method of permanent removal — destruction of the hair follicle by electrolysis or diathermy. On the lips and chin the results are fairly good, but some degree of scarring is difficult to avoid. On the forehead, where the skin is smoothly stretched over the bones, any degree of scarring would probably be quite conspicuous.

CESAREANS

Q. If cesarean section is harmless, why aren't all babies delivered this way?

A. Who said cesarean section is harmless? It is major surgery and involves increased hazard to the mother, to the child, and to future childbearing. There are medical indications for cesarean section. When these do not exist, normal vaginal delivery is best by far.

Thieu Urges U.S. To Stay Unified With His Country

SAIGON (AP) — Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu declared today South Vietnam is "on the threshold of a new era" and appealed to the United States to remain unified with his country and persevere against the Communists.

At a ceremony at which he helped dedicate the new $2.6 million U.S. Embassy in Saigon, Thieu said, "There is no challenge that cannot be met if we remain unified and persevere in our efforts."

As Thieu spoke, his government was threatened by a new political crisis involving the militant Buddhists headed by Thich (Venerable) Tri Quang. The militants are demanding withdrawal of a charter recognizing a moderate Buddhist faction as the country's established church, a demand Thieu said "we cannot accept."

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker said at the ceremony that the allies are making progress in South Vietnam. But he said the "true revolution" in this country depends on Vietnamese solutions to Vietnamese problems.

The 74-year-old Bunker reaffirmed America's commitment in South Vietnam and dedicated the all-white, six-story embassy building to "the cause of peace" and to Americans who have served in Vietnam.

The gathering included 28 ambassadors and other diplomatic representatives.

5 Others To Pick Up Strength

Computer Says 10 States To Lose Seats In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A computerized peek at the probable outcome of the 1970 census shows 10 states losing seats in the House of Representatives and 5 others picking up strength as a result.

California, which passed New York in population before the 1960s were half over, will increase its present 38-man delegation to 44 after the official count is made, according to Census Bureau projections.

And New York, after having had more representation than any other state since 1810, is not expected even to keep all its present 41 seats for the 1972 election Figure New York for 40, the Census Bureau says.

Besides California, here are the states the computer thinks will gain representation: Florida, two new seats, and New Jersey, Texas and Arizona, one seat each.

But divvying up the seats in Congress is a see-saw operation. When one state's membership in the House goes up, another's must come down.

The cuts will be concentrated largely in the Midwest. The losers in the Census Bureau forecast are Pennsylvania, two seats; West Virginia, one; and these Midwestern states, each slated to give up one seat: Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Iowa and North Dakota.

In the case of Ohio, the computer is hedging, unable to decide whether the loss will be one seat or two.

Census Bureau estimates indicate the population gain for the whole country will be about 15 per cent, rising from 179 million in 1960 to 206 million in 1970.

Recreational Program Due At Tomlinson

NEW CUMBERLAND—Plans for development of a comprehensive recreational program in Tomlinson Run State Park were pledged here Tuesday by Theodore R. Sansell, director of the West Virginia State Department of Natural Resources, at a conference with members of the Hancock County commissioners.

Sansell, in his first visit to the county since his advancement to directorship of the department, was accompanied by Kermit McKeever, chief of the Division of Parks.

He said he was impressed with the cleanliness and care of the 1,398-acre park, the 30-acre lake and swimming pool facilities.

"This is a good, healthy outdoor recreational area which is almost an oasis in an expanding industrial area," Mrs. Sansell said.

He said both he and McKeever favor continuing the present type of outdoor recreation currently there, and feel a proposal for a lodge is not feasible for this area.

They favored development of an outdoor recreation program reaching a greater number of people. They said they will consider development of a tent-trailer area, extension of an old road to tie in with Rt. 66, and promoting projects and programs aimed at group participation.

Sansell said a meeting with staff personnel will be held in department headquarters in Charleston within a few days to work on a long - range comprehensive recreational program..

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What can a parent do these days to protect her youngsters against dirty movies that somehow get coupled with children's entertainment?

Yesterday I took my two youngsters to see "Snow White." The kids had been looking forward to this delightful movie for weeks. I phoned in advaice to learn if the second movie was okay for children. I was told, "Yes. It's a Western. The kids will love it." We arrived just as the second feature was starting.

We weren't in our seats five minutes when I thought I was hearing things. The leading character asked where he could find a "house of joy." A woman an appeared in a dress cut down to her navel. She inquired as to whether he wanted a redhead or a blonde.

Before I could get the children down the stairs and out the door, a hussy in a kimono turned up on the screen and asked if he would be more comfortable if he removed his wedding ring. My 6-year-old asked, "Is the ring too tight, Mommy?" and a half dozen other questions which I had a hard time answering.

Now the kids are mad at me because they didn't get to see "Snow White" and I had to promise to take them next week.

I feel sorry for parents who send their children to the matinee. They have no idea what those kids are looking at for a second feature. Please, Ann, tell us what we can do to get two clean shows on the bill? — BURNED-UP MOTHER.

Dear Burned: You apparently live near an exceptionally stupid theater manager. You should write him and tell him what you told me.

Sparring Ring

Dear Ann: I'm a 20-year-old boy who needs your advice. The trouble is my parents. Mom has a terrible temper and a will of iron. She thinks she's always right and will talk for five hours straight to prove a point.

Dad is not an alcoholic but he hits the bottle when Mom gets on his back, and she gets on his back about five nights a week.

I'm living with my aunt on the other side of town because her apartment is near my job. In a couple of weeks I have to go back to school and this means I must return to my parents' home.

I dread the yelling and the fighting. It's darned near impossible to study in the house. Also, a good night's sleep is out of the question. Please tell me what to do. — HEADACHES-VILLE

Dear H.: You don't say where school is in relation to your aunt's apartment. If it's possible to remain with your aunt, do so. But do keep in touch with your parents by phone and see them on weekends so they will not feel neglected.

Ageless Wonders

Dear Ann: I did not agree with your advice to the woman who is six years older than her husband. You advised her to admit it, get a passport and take that trip to Europe with him.

I'm in exactly the same spot and I'd rather die than let my husband know my true age. I believe in the old adage. "Confession may be good for the soul but it's awful hard on the reputation."

Any answer? Or do you choose to duck this one? — FREE-THINKING WOMAN.

Dear Woman: Your brand of free thinking can be pretty expensive. Somewhere in this world there's a relative, a neighbor, a schoolmate — someone who knows our true age. The truth WILL come out one day and you're going to wind up looking like a rather old liar.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

The Pleasures Of Slimming

Pleasure can be the surprise ingredient in a slimming regime. It is always exciting to hear this from someone who has experienced real enjoyment in eating to build healthy leanness.

Ida Jean Kain

Last week I saw a friend whom I had not seen since we took graduate work at Columbia University, many years ago. Greeting me joyously, she remarked, "In honor of your coming I took off that 10 pounds I've been intending to lose. It was a positive pleasure," she added enthusiastically.

Then in her inimitable, amusing way she peered under my chin to see if I had taken chintoners. She recalled the times we used to walk along Riverside Drive and I would practice "elegant head carriage." You know how it is with good friends. Meeting again after a lapse of years you can pick up where you left off. It is a joy to bridge the years with happy recollections.

MY FRIEND Alice has a delightful Alice - in - Wonderland appraoch to life, with a built-in curiosity and communicable zest. She is an inveterate world traveller and appreciates the delectable viands of each country. Characteristically she commented, "In any land and any language I find that overeating is fattening."

As far as I could ferret out, Alice's slimming system worked like a charm simply because she decided to enjoy the venture. She has a knack of tackling everything with gusto, including not overeating. When she regarded fattening fare as something she really didn't want, that did it.

Looking ever so pleased, she said, "I found to my amazement that as soon as I set my mind to curbing calories, I didn't care for second helpings, nor crave rich desserts."

Even knowing the magical effects of a change of attitude, I was impressed, for this friend loves to eat. I vividly remember one morning when, at the finish of breakfast, she turned said, "Duplicate the order." She then consumed the encore breakfast with undiminished relish.

TO HELP her present slimming along, Alice decided to tone up by walking 20 blocks each evening. To her delight she began to look forward to the walk.

"When a friend drops by and I have to forego the walk, I feel cheated," she told me.

Well, there you are friends. Attitude makes all the difference. Decide to enjoy slimming fare and you will find that interest picks up and you can carry on with enthusiasm. Start walking regularly and you discover that nature's favorite constitutional gives you an extra fillip of fine feeling.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) The Belmont County Sheriff's Department said Thursday night William Leek, 20, who gave his address as the Grandview Hotel, New Martinsville, W. Va., is being held here on a charge of possession of narcotics.

Tiny quantities of strunzite has been found in New Hampshire in 1947, but it was not until discovery of the mineral in Bavaria that there were large enough amounts to work with for the first time.

Unions Solicit Members For Beaver United Fund

Two more Beaver County building trades unions have agreed to support this year's United Fund drive. The Painters Local 530 and the Construction and General Laborers Union Local 833 announced they will join with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 12 in conducting a UF solicitation among its membership.

Building trades employes, unlike industrial employes, move from job to job frequently and often do not have an opportunity to make a Fair Share United Fund pledge at work.

The three building trades unions and their officers will conduct the solicitation through their union offices.

"Our officers and membership recognize the value of the United Fund drive," stated James Yaria, business agent for the Painters Local, and Edward M. Ley, business agent for the Construction and General Laborers Local. "Our membership had an opportunity this past spring to participate in the United Fund Health-O-Rama program and saw first hand the good work being accomplished by the annual campaign. Our local unions are pleased to give our membership the opportunity to support the United Fund drive through the union offices," they added.

Both building trades unions will begin their United Fund membership solicitation this week by means of letter and on-the-job solicitation. All pledging by their membership will be channelled through the local business offices in New Brighton.

This year's United Fund drive, currently in progress, is seeking over $1 million to support more than 40 voluntary agencies and services in 1968.

THE COACH'S CORNER

by

BOB McNEA

Many people may wonder how a two week lay off between games will affect a football team. No one can say with certainty, but I do not believe it will have any serious detrimental affects. The advantages are that minor injuries may be cleared up and usually no serious ones may be received. The offensive and defensive planning may take place at an earlier time and each boy's assignments may be more thoroughly learned. This extra work can also be used to polish many facets of your specialties such as passing, punting and kicking. So, I realize there are advantages, but I still do not like a week off in the middle of the season. Over 500 schools in seven states were contacted, but no one was able to fit into the Potter schedule.

Boys are not motivated very well during this time, and some of the practice time can become monotonous. The very important timing of offense can be off during this period. Defensive reaction is sometimes dulled because of no game approaching emotion. Condition may be a problem as our first team has not played an entire ball game so far and a week off has not helped this situation. Our team is one week behind in experience compared to our opponents and experience is one of the most important factors in successful football.

We are getting ready for the usual, tough, hard hitting Steubenville Central football team. This is and has always been the mark of Coach Rich Pont's squads. They come to play and that means hit, hit and more hit.

Coach Pont has six starters back from last year's great defensive team. That team held Niles to its low score for the year of six points and the "Potters" to eight and that is good defensive.

Central has been hurt this year by spread formations and especially passing. No one has hurt them running the ball to any extent. This week's game will pit E.L.H.S running game vs Central great running defensive. Lou Julian, Central's fullback, and linebacker is one of the many outstanding players that will perform against the Potters this season. He makes tackles from sideline to sideline and is a very strong running back. He weighs 230 pounds. Urdzak and Dempsey are the other two of the tri-captains and all three boys are exceptional football players. Coach Pont predicted before the season that Central would be in the top fifteen teams in Ohio this year. They are undefeated in Ohio football so far this season.

Tigers Rained Out, Battle Angels In Pair Tonight

Six of the top 20 college football rushers are from Ohio schools, according to statistics released this week by the NCAA.

Dick Conley of Ohio U. ranks eighth, Bob Pfefferle of Toledo is ninth, Roland Moss of Toledo is 13th, Mel Taylor of Dayton 15th, Bill Waller of Xavier 17th and Bill Mayo of Dayton 20th. In addition, Jack Foster of Western Michigan, a Mid-American Conference member, is 14th. Don Fitzgerald of Kent State, second last year only to Ray McDonald of Idaho, has been held to 90 yards in two games and is unranked. Conley is averaging 119 yeards a game.

In total offense, John Schneider of Toledo is 22nd and Kent Thompson of Miami is 24th. In passing, Schneider is 12th, Jerry Buckmaster of Xaxier is 15th, Tom Digon of West Virginia 16th, Tom Sherman of Penn State 17th and Ron Swartz of Kent State 24th. Jim Shaw of Miami is 20th in punting. Marty Barski of Western Michigan is 6th in pass receiving and Dennis Tobias of Toledo 14th.

Ken Juskowich of West Virginia has scored 28 points with his toe, 10 of 10 extra points and six of seven field goals, to rank first in the country in total scoring and in kick scoring. Garrett Ford of the Mountaineers is tied for fifth with 18 points, along with Conley of Ohio U. and Moss of Toledo. Bill Pataki of Ohio U. is tied for 20th in scoring by kicking, along with Ken Crots of Toledo.

John Mallory of West Virginia leads the country in punt returns with 185 yards in nine tries. Bob Zimpfer of Bowling Green is fourth. Bob Campbell of Penn State is third in kickoff returns and Orin Richburg of Kent State is fourth. Lou Harris of the Golden Flashes is sixth in interception returns.

Teamwise, Toledo is seventh in rushing and Ohio U. is 11th. Penn State has the 12th best passing offense and Ohio U. is 10th in scoring. Dayton is eighth in defense and West Virginia ninth. The Mountaineers are sixth in rushing defense. Cincinnati is eighth in pass defense. Bowling Green is one of eight teams in the country unscored upon in one game.

DON'T LOOK NOW, but Carl Yastrzemski has an excellent chance to wrest the triple crown away from Frank Robinson—intact. The Boston beauty is leading Robinson in batting .319 to .314, is 4 RBIs ahead of Harmon Killebrew and is tied with Killebrew in home runs. Yastrzemski should be a sure bet for MVP.

Dick Williams is our choice for manager of the year whether the Red Sox win, lose or end up in a playoff. He took a tail-end team and made a contender out of it. Leo Durocher is our National League choice, for the same reason.

It is impossible that the American League race will end up in a four-way tie, now that the Red Sox are one game in back of Minnesota with two games left between the two teams. The odds against a four-way tie at the start of the season were 30,315,229 to 1. The odds against a three-way tie, which is still possible, were 212,552 to one.

CHUCK KINDER, former placekicking star at West Virginia U., has signed with the Charleston Rockets of the Continental Football League. The Rockets also got Sonny Gibbs, former Texas A&M star quarterback, from the defunct Akron Vulcans.

RAFAEL DEL VALLE, a Puerto Rican native and professor of Latin American studies, has been named tennis coach at WVU. He formerly coached at Alabama.

TIM McLANE of Coshocton scored 44 points against Ashland last week. He gained 208 yards in 18 carries, scored five touchdowns on the ground and returned an intercepted pass for a sixth TD. He also tallied four extra points.

HEISMAN TROPHY winner Steve Spurrier saw his first action at quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers Sunday, replacing John Brodie late in the 38-7 win over Atlanta. Spurrier hit 5 of 7 passes for 62 yards. He also punted three times, averaging 47.3.

THE STEELERS ARE the top defensive team in the NFL, despite their loss to the Cardinals. Individually, Bill Asbury is fourth in scoring and Mike Clark 10th. Bill Nelson is ninth in passing, Dick Compton ninth in receiving, Marv Woodson eighth in interceptions and Asbury seventh in rushing. For the Browns, Ernie Green is 11th in receiving, Leroy Kelly is fourth in rushing, and eighth in punting, Gary Collins is 10th in punting and Ben Davis is first in punt returns.

JEFF HALL of Calcutta has made the fall baseball team at Point Park College in Pittsburgh. Hall is the only freshman on the squad. Hall compiled an 8-2 record pitching for Beaver Local this spring and went on to post a 10-2 record in American Legion competition.

Canton Lincoln, coached by former Potter mentor Lou Venditti, is 3-0, not 2-1 as reported by the wire services. There was a confusion of a score of Cleveland Lincoln with Canton Lincoln.

Wins Golf Tourney

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Jerry Courville of Norwalk, Conn., became the second amateur Thursday to win the New York Metropolitan Open Golf Championship in the 52-year history of the tournament. He posted a final 72-hole total of 292.

GUELPH, Ont. (AP) — Larry Regan, general manager of the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League, announced Thursday that the team has signed a one-year working agreement with the Toledo Blades, champions of the International Hockey League.

Reds Win Pair; Phils Nip Giants

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The weatherman, throwing his delaying spitter at Detroit, has raised the distinct possibility that you or I will wind up pitching for the Tigers in their last game of the regular season.

The opening game of Detroit's last-ditch series with California was rained out Thursday night and now the Tigers—still in contention in the American League's up-tight pennant race—face a twi-night doubleheader today and single games Saturday and Sunday.

Joe Sparma was to pitch Thursday and, with Earl Wilson scheduled today and Mickey Lolich on Saturday. Sparma conceivably could have come back with two day's rest for the finale, Sunday.

But with Sparma's turn moved up to todays first game, he's out of the picture after that. Denny McLain, who dislocated a couple of toes last week, says he's ready, but Manager Mayo Smith is skeptical. And that exhausts the list of Tiger starters.

The forecast in Detroit today, by the way, was for rain, setting up the intriguing possibility of consecutive doubleheaders on Saturday and Sunday. The Tigers can clinch at least a tie for the flag by sweeping the four-game set.

In the only other game involving the four pennant contenders tonight, Chicago is at home to Washington. The White Sox are right down at the end of the stick; one more defeat and their chances of even tying for the pennant are gone.

Minnesota, in first place by a game, and Boston, tied with Detroit for second, get a second straight day of rest before opening their climactic two-game set in Boston Saturday.

There was baseball action Thursday, all in the National League where Philadelphia edged San Francisco 2-1, Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Atlanta 8-0 and 9-1 and Los Angeles beat New York 3-0. St. Louis and Chicago were rained out.

Reliever Dick Farrell got Willie Mays to ground into a double play with the bases loaded in the ninth, saving the Phillies' victory over the Giants.

Jim Maloney shut out the Braves on four hits in the opener, striking out 12, and Sammy Ellis scattered seven hits in the nightcap in the Reds' doubleheader victory.

Claude Osteen held the Mets to five hits and tripled in two runs to break a scoreless tie in the seventh inning.

Penn State Faces Miami In Orange Bowl Tonight

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Cougars will be seeking to advance further in the national rankings while the Miami Hurricanes will be looking to reclaim a position among the rated teams in key games tonight that kick off another big college football weekend.

Houston, No. 3 in the latest Associated Press poll after its stunning 37-7 victory over Michigan State, takes on Wake Forest in the Astrodome. Miami, ranked eighth before being upset by Northwestern last week, plays Penn State in the Orange Bowl.

Saturday's action is highlighted by a meeting between top-ranked Notre Dame and 10th-rated Purdue on the Boilermakers' field. Second-place Southern California faces Michigan State in Lansing, Mich.

The Cougars are rated four touchdown favorites to beat Wake Forest which lost its first two games to Duke and Clemson. It is the strongest role as favorites in Houston history and coach Bill Yeoman is trying to caution his charges against overconfidence.

Houston, 2-0, again will depend on the explosive running of Warren McVea and the passing of Dick Woodall. McVea was named The Associated Press' back-of-the-week after rushing for 155 yards against Michigan State. Woodall chipped in with touchdown passes of 77 and 76 yards against the Spartans.

Coach Bill Tate of Wake Forest said his team's pass defense has been among his major disappointments. The opposition has completed 16 of 29 for 306 yards.

A crowd of about 50,000 is expected to witness what figures to be a high scoring game in the Orange Bowl. Penn State dropped a 23-22 decision to Navy last week. The Hurricanes moved the ball well in losing to Northwestern, but their attack bogged down with fumbles, interceptions plus an illegal pass.

Penn State will be without the services of tackle John Ebersole, a defensive regular. He suffered a knee sprain in the Navy game and will be sidelined for several weeks.

Western Michigan is at Brigham Young in another game tonight.

Purdue opened with a 24-20 triumph over Texas A&M last week. Notre Dame scored a 41-8 victory in its first game. The Irish captured the national championship last season.

Michigan State is determined to regain the prestige it lost in the Houston setback. However, Southern Cal comes off two impressive victories, 49-0 over Washington State and 17-13 over highly-regarded Texas.

Dallas Pick Over Rams

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dallas, Baltimore, Kansas City and San Diego should be the only all-winning pro football clubs after Sunday's 12-game schedule in the National Football League and American Football League.

According to the view from here the Los Angeles Rams, San Francisco 49ers, and Oakland Raiders will suffer their first defeats this weekend.

A 9-3 week brought the season record to 17-5-1 (12-3-1 in the NFL and 5-2 in the AFL). Let's take another flyer, all games are Sunday.

NFL

Green Bay 30, Atlanta 0—Time for Packers to get up a head of steam against Falcons' porous defense. After tie and squeaker with Bears, Pack should not need Don Chandler to win this one. Hard to believe Green Bay has thrown the pass er only once all year. Maybe they'll take it out on Randy Johnson. Bart Starr should get well.

Minnesota 14, Chicago 10—An upset. This is a toughie. Two nothing clubs. Gale Sayers usually has big day against Vikings but Bear offense pitiful so far and Minnesota not much better Take the Vikings on chance Joe Kapp may get attack rolling.

Cleveland 21, New Orleans 10—Two more nonwinners. Despite Frank Ryan's bad ankles, Browns should win on running of Leroy Kelly. Could be close.

Detroit 27, St. Louis 22—Lions' passing game ordinary, but Mel Farr makes them tops in running. Lions won preseason game 21-7 Sept. 8. Unless Jim Bakken kicks seven more field goals, Lions should have edge.

Dallas 28, Los Angeles 20—This is the big one and the pick here is Dallas in upset. Cowboys looked strong with Don Meredith doing a fine job against Giants. Rams' defense has allowed only one touchdown, a kickoff return, but their offense will have trouble with Cowboys' front four. Rams won preseason tilt 20-6, Aug. 12.

Washington 35, New York 28—Last time they met in regular season Washington won. Redskins won preseason game 31-13 at Raleigh, N.C. Aug. 19. Charley Taylor, John Love and Bobby Mitchell all can't be double covered. Sonny Jurgensen will find the holes in Giant defense. Fran Tarkenton should have a big day, too, in a free-scoring contest, but Skins' line will make him scramble.

Philadelphia 24, Pittsburgh 13—A week ago the pick would have been the Steelers but loss of Bill Nelsen forces Bill Austin to fall back on untried Kent Nix, a Packer taxi man last year. Tough break for Pittsburgh. Eagles have beaten them five of the last six but that Steeler pass defense will make Norm Snead wary.

Baltimore 28, San Francisco 20—Two more unbeaten teams. Colts have jinx on 49ers, winning nine straight since 1962. Big game for both clubs in Coastal Divison. Balanced 49er attack will pressure Colts' secondary, but John Unitas has their number.

AFL

Kansas City 21, Oakland 17—Another battle of all winners. Chiefs won preseason game 48-0 but Raiders have come on strong, allowing only seven points in two games. Oakland's pass rush will keep Len Dawson hopping but Mike Garrett and Curt McClinton give Kansas City the edge. One of toughest games on the program.

Houston 24, Denver 14—Joe Namath picked Denver apart last week. Houston's passing poor so far but Broncos have given up 20 touchdowns in four games. A big day for Hoyle Granger.

San Diego 14, Buffalo 10—How can you figure the Bills? Sturdy defense has given up 60 points in three games and attack has produced only 23.

New York 28, Miami 7—Namath is on the beam but Matt Snell still is out. Dolphins have quarterback trouble with first John Stofa and then Bob Griese racked up. Griese expects to play but Dolphs may have to go to Rick Norton.

Boston has the bye this week.

4 Golfers Share Lead In Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Leathery Texan Don January says he can't quite figure out the trees but raw, bone-chilling weather doesn't faze him a bit.

"It's just my kind of weather," said January, the reigning PGA champion who chose one of the roughest days of the year to rejoin the golf tour after a bout with influenza and fire a 69 to become one of four co-leaders of the first Atlanta Golf Classic.

The 37-year-old Dallas, Tex., pro ignored cold, stiff winds and sporadic rain to deadlock in the first round of the $110,000 tournament at the Atlanta Country Club with another Texan, Miller Barber, Randy Glover and his playing partner, Charlie Sifford.

The quartet held a slender one-stroke lead over five other pros—slim Wayne Yates of Atlanta, former steel worker Walt Zembriski of Montvale, N.J., Tennessean Mason Rudolph and Raymond Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill.—as the high winds and low temperatures sent scores of many of the best-known professionals soaring sky-high.

Flamboyant Doug Sanders, the Georgian best-known on the tour, came in with a 76 on the 7,049-yard par 36-36—72 layout and Frank Beard, winner of three tournaments this year, had a 78, failed to sign his scorecard, and left.

January, one of the top money-winners in the tournament in the absence of Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros, had trouble with the front side of the course and turned with a 37. But on the back side he rolled in a birdie putt on the 584-yard 11th hole, chipped in from 20 feet on the 135-yard 13th for another bird and holed two 10-footers on Nos. 15 and 17.

Fight Results

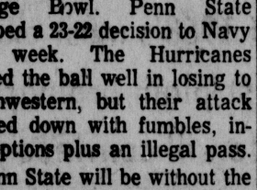

Thursday's Fights

SHIZUOKA, Japan — Benkei Fujikura, 148¼, Japan, outpointed Che Kan Kim, 150½, South Korea, 10.

PORTLAND, Maine — Gene Herrick, 148, Saco, Maine, outpointed Jackie Petusca, 150, Miami, Fla., 10.

LOS ANGELES—Jerry Stokes, 124, Los Angeles, knocked out Umberto Reyes, 124½, Mexico, 5.

DON'T LOOK NOW, but Carl Yastrzemski has an excellent chance to wrest the triple crown away from Frank Robinson—intact. The Boston beauty is leading Robinson in batting .319 to .314, is 4 RBIs ahead of Harmon Killebrew and is tied with Killebrew in home runs. Yastrzemski should be a sure bet for MVP.

Dick Williams is our choice for manager of the year whether the Red Sox win, lose or end up in a playoff. He took a tail-end team and made a contender out of it. Leo Durocher is our National League choice, for the same reason.

It is impossible that the American League race will end up in a four-way tie, now that the Red Sox are one game in back of Minnesota with two games left between the two teams. The odds against a four-way tie at the start of the season were 30,315,229 to 1. The odds against a three-way tie, which is still possible, were 212,552 to one.

CHUCK KINDER, former placekicking star at West Virginia U., has signed with the Charleston Rockets of the Continental Football League. The Rockets also got Sonny Gibbs, former Texas A&M star quarterback, from the defunct Akron Vulcans.

RAFAEL DEL VALLE, a Puerto Rican native and professor of Latin American studies, has been named tennis coach at WVU. He formerly coached at Alabama.

TIM McLANE of Coshocton scored 44 points against Ashland last week. He gained 208 yards in 18 carries, scored five touchdowns on the ground and returned an intercepted pass for a sixth TD. He also tallied four extra points.

HEISMAN TROPHY winner Steve Spurrier saw his first action at quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers Sunday, replacing John Brodie late in the 38-7 win over Atlanta. Spurrier hit 5 of 7 passes for 62 yards. He also punted three times, averaging 47.3.

THE STEELERS ARE the top defensive team in the NFL, despite their loss to the Cardinals. Individually, Bill Asbury is fourth in scoring and Mike Clark 10th. Bill Nelson is ninth in passing, Dick Compton ninth in receiving, Marv Woodson eighth in interceptions and Asbury seventh in rushing. For the Browns, Ernie Green is 11th in receiving, Leroy Kelly is fourth in rushing, and eighth in punting, Gary Collins is 10th in punting and Ben Davis is first in punt returns.

JEFF HALL of Calcutta has made the fall baseball team at Point Park College in Pittsburgh. Hall is the only freshman on the squad. Hall compiled an 8-2 record pitching for Beaver Local this spring and went on to post a 10-2 record in American Legion competition.

Canton Lincoln, coached by former Potter mentor Lou Venditti, is 3-0, not 2-1 as reported by the wire services. There was a confusion of a score of Cleveland Lincoln with Canton Lincoln.

Reds Win Pair; Phils Nip Giants

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The weatherman, throwing his delaying spitter at Detroit, has raised the distinct possibility that you or I will wind up pitching for the Tigers in their last game of the regular season.

The opening game of Detroit's last-ditch series with California was rained out Thursday night and now the Tigers—still in contention in the American League's up-tight pennant race—face a twi-night doubleheader today and single games Saturday and Sunday.

Joe Sparma was to pitch Thursday and, with Earl Wilson scheduled today and Mickey Lolich on Saturday. Sparma conceivably could have come back with two day's rest for the finale Sunday.

But with Sparma's turn moved up to todays first game, he's out of the picture after that. Denny McLain, who dislocated a couple of toes last week, says he's ready, but Manager Mayo Smith is skeptical. And that exhausts the list of Tiger starters.

The forecast in Detroit today, by the way, was for rain, setting up the intriguing possibility of consecutive doubleheaders on Saturday and Sunday. The Tigers can clinch at least a tie for the flag by sweeping the four-game set.

In the only other game involving the four pennant contenders tonight, Chicago is at home to Washington. The White Sox are right down at the end of the stick; one more defeat and their chances of even tying for the pennant are gone.

Minnesota, in first place by a game, and Boston, tied with Detroit for second, get a second straight day of rest before opening their climactic two-game set in Boston Saturday.

There was baseball action Thursday, all in the National League where Philadelphia edged San Francisco 2-1, Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Atlanta 8-0 and 9-1 and Los Angeles beat New York 3-0. St. Louis and Chicago were rained out.

Reliever Dick Farrell got Willie Mays to ground into a double play with the bases loaded in the ninth, saving the Phillies' victory over the Giants.

Jim Maloney shut out the Braves on four hits in the opener, striking out 12, and Sammy Ellis scattered seven hits in the nightcap in the Reds' doubleheader victory.

Claude Osteen held the Mets to five hits and tripled in two runs to break a scoreless tie in the seventh inning.

Penn State Faces Miami In Orange Bowl Tonight

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Houston Cougars will be seeking to advance further in the national rankings while the Miami Hurricanes will be looking to reclaim a position among the rated teams in key games tonight that kick off another big college football weekend.

Houston, No. 3 in the latest Associated Press poll after its stunning 37-7 victory over Michigan State, takes on Wake Forest in the Astrodome. Miami, ranked eighth before being upset by Northwestern last week, plays Penn State in the Orange Bowl.

Saturday's action is highlighted by a meeting between top-ranked Notre Dame and 10th-rated Purdue on the Boilermakers' field. Second-place Southern California faces Michigan State in Lansing, Mich.

The Cougars are rated four touchdown favorites to beat Wake Forest which lost its first two games to Duke and Clemson. It is the strongest role as favorites in Houston history and coach Bill Yeoman is trying to caution his charges against overconfidence.

Houston, 2-0, again will depend on the explosive running of Warren McVea and the passing of Dick Woodall. McVea was named The Associated Press' back-of-the-week after rushing for 155 yards against Michigan State. Woodall chipped in with touchdown passes of 77 and 76 yards against the Spartans.

Coach Bill Tate of Wake Forest said his team's pass defense has been among his major disappointments. The opposition has completed 16 of 29 for 306 yards.

A crowd of about 50,000 is expected to witness what figures to be a high scoring game in the Orange Bowl. Penn State dropped a 23-22 decision to Navy last week. The Hurricanes moved the ball well in losing to Northwestern, but their attack bogged down with fumbles, interceptions plus an illegal pass.

Penn State will be without the services of tackle John Ebersole, a defensive regular. He suffered a knee sprain in the Navy game and will be sidelined for several weeks.

Purdue opened with a 24-20 triumph over Texas A&M last week. Notre Dame scored a 41-8 victory in its first game. The Irish captured the national championship last season.

Michigan State is determined to regain the prestige it lost in the Houston setback. However, Southern Cal comes off two impressive victories, 49-0 over Washington State and 17-13 over highly-regarded Texas.

Browns Selected, Steelers Not

Dallas Pick Over Rams

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dallas, Baltimore, Kansas City and San Diego should be the only all-winning pro football clubs after Sunday's 12-game schedule in the National Football League and American Football League.

According to the view from here the Los Angeles Rams, San Francisco 49ers, and Oakland Raiders will suffer their first defeats this weekend.

A 9-3 week brought the season record to 17-5-1 (12-3-1 in the NFL and 5-2 in the AFL). Let's take another flyer, all games are Sunday.

NFL

Green Bay 30, Atlanta 0—Time for Packers to get up a head of steam against Falcons' porous defense. After tie and squeaker with Bears, Pack should not need Don Chandler to win this one. Hard to believe Green Bay has thrown the pass er only once all year. Maybe they'll take it out on Randy Johnson. Bart Starr should get well.

Minnesota 14, Chicago 10—An upset. This is a toughie. Two nothing clubs. Gale Sayers usually has big day against Vikings but Bear offense pitiful so far and Minnesota not much better Take the Vikings on chance Joe Kapp may get attack rolling.

Cleveland 21, New Orleans 10—Two more nonwinners. Despite Frank Ryan's bad ankles, Browns should win on running of Leroy Kelly. Could be close.

Detroit 27, St. Louis 22—Lions' passing game ordinary, but Mel Farr makes them tops in running. Lions won preseason game 21-7 Sept. 8. Unless Jim Bakken kicks seven more field goals, Lions should have edge.

Dallas 28, Los Angeles 20—This is the big one and the pick here is Dallas in upset. Cowboys looked strong with Don Meredith doing a fine job against Giants. Rams' defense has allowed only one touchdown, a kickoff return, but their offense will have trouble with Cowboys' front four. Rams won preseason tilt 20-6, Aug. 12.

Washington 35, New York 28—Last time they met in regular season Washington won. Redskins won preseason game 31-13 at Raleigh, N.C. Aug. 19. Charley Taylor, John Love and Bobby Mitchell all can't be double covered. Sonny Jurgensen will find the holes in Giant defense. Fran Tarkenton should have a big day, too, in a free-scoring contest, but Skins' line will make him scramble.

Philadelphia 24, Pittsburgh 13—A week ago the pick would have been the Steelers but loss of Bill Nelsen forces Bill Austin to fall back on untried Kent Nix, a Packer taxi man last year. Tough break for Pittsburgh. Eagles have beaten them five of the last six but that Steeler pass defense will make Norm Snead wary.

Baltimore 28, San Francisco 20—Two more unbeaten teams. Colts have jinx on 49ers, winning nine straight since 1962. Big game for both clubs in Coastal Divison. Balanced 49er attack will pressure Colts' secondary, but John Unitas has their number.

AFL

Kansas City 21, Oakland 17—Another battle of all winners. Chiefs won preseason game 48-0 but Raiders have come on strong, allowing only seven points in two games. Oakland's pass rush will keep Len Dawson hopping but Mike Garrett and Curt McClinton give Kansas City the edge. One of toughest games on the program.

Houston 24, Denver 14—Joe Namath picked Denver apart last week. Houston's passing poor so far but Broncos have given up 20 touchdowns in four games. A big day for Hoyle Granger.

San Diego 14, Buffalo 10—How can you figure the Bills? Sturdy defense has given up 60 points in three games and attack has produced only 23.

New York 28, Miami 7—Namath is on the beam but Matt Snell still is out. Dolphins have quarterback trouble with first John Stofa and then Bob Griese racked up. Griese expects to play but Dolphs may have to go to Rick Norton.

Boston has the bye this week.

4 Golfers Share Lead In Atlanta

"It's just my kind of weather," said January, the reigning PGA champion who chose one of the roughest days of the year to rejoin the golf tour after a bout with influenza and fire a 69 to become one of four co-leaders of the first Atlanta Golf Classic.

The 37-year-old Dallas, Tex., pro ignored cold, stiff winds and sporadic rain to deadlock in the first round of the $110,000 tournament at the Atlanta Country Club with another Texan, Miller Barber, Randy Glover and his playing partner, Charlie Sifford.

The quartet held a slender one-stroke lead over five other pros—slim Wayne Yates of Atlanta, former steel worker Walt Zembriski of Montvale, N.J., Tennessean Mason Rudolph and Raymond Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill.—as the high winds and low temperatures sent scores of many of the best-known professionals soaring sky-high.

Flamboyant Doug Sanders, the Georgian best-known on the tour, came in with a 76 on the 7,049-yard par 36-36—72 layout and Frank Beard, winner of three tournaments this year, had a 78, failed to sign his scorecard, and left.

January, one of the top money-winners in the tournament in the absence of Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros, had trouble with the front side of the course and turned with a 37. But on the back side he rolled in a birdie putt on the 584-yard 11th hole, chipped in from 20 feet on the 135-yard 13th for another bird and holed two 10-footers on Nos. 15 and 17.

Potters, 2-0, Entertain Steubenville Central, 1-1-1

Traditional Rival Here Tomorrow

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Six area grid games are on tap tonight and six tomorrow, including Steubenville Central Catholic at East Liverpool.

Kickoff is 7:45 at Patterson Field. Other area games find Mars facing Western Beaver at Midland at 8, South Side Beaver traveling to Sharpsburg for an 11:30 a.m. game, Springfield Local at United, Lisbon at Poland and Crestview at North Lima.

"A spread offense has been effective against Steubenville Central", notes Potter coach Bob McNea, "and we have made adjustments in our offense during the two weeks since our last game". The Potters are 2-0, have won 10 straight, and haven't been scored on in their last six encounters. The Crusaders, expected to do well this year, have disappointed their followers by going 1-1-1. They beat Toledo Central 14-0, lost to Follansbee 18-13 and were tied by Weirton Madonna 16-16. In the latter two games the Crusaders had two touchdown leads but lost them.

Chief threats for the invaders are Joe Caranfa and Lou Julian. Caranfa, 5-8, 145, is "the best scatback I've had here in seven years", according to Central coach Richard Pont. McNea says Caranfa is bigger, stronger and faster than Sam Scott of East Liverpool, though not as elusive. Julian, a 210-pound fullback, is the player McNea really respects. "He made half the tackles on defense, and is very strong and hard to bring down, on offense" the local coach notes. McNea also said that their passing hasn't been too good, but "the last time I said that they passed for about 180 yards against us." Jimmy Miller, a junior, is the Crusade quarterback.

Caranfa is reported injured however, and may not be able to play against the Potters.

"There are six starters back on defense for them," he continued, "but they have lost some boys from the secondary, and may be vulnerable to passing." Last year EL edged Central 8-0.

Mike McVay has been working some at quarterback for the home team, though Earl Diddle is expected to star there. Dan Cunningham, the normal number two signal - caller, is bothered by a knee injury and can't run well. Jim Musuraca has a chipped ankle bone, which will hamper his play all year. He will be available for action tomorrow, however, though Scott, McVay and Bill Jones will probably start in the backfield with Diddle. Bruce Christian has a bad cold, and has missed practice this week, but he is expected to start at tight end, with Tom Chambers the split end. Tackles will be Stanley Ice and John Stepien, guards Bill Hopper and Bob Jones and Ray Boyd the center. Ice and Don Cochran will be the defensive tackles, Hopper and Christian the defensive ends, and Bill Jones the middle guard. Jim Bess, whose hand is still a little stiff, will be at linebacker along with McVay. Mike Jackson is the "monster man". If able, Musuraca will start at safety, instead of Nelson (Sonny) Clark, and John Johnson and Chambers will be the halfbacks. McNea is hoping for a dry field, noting that a wet field hurts the offense.

Western Beaver, 1-2, plays its fourth straight Class A opponent before getting into Class B opposition. Mars is 0-3, having fallen to Center 13-0, Oakmont 39-7 and Freeport 48-6. The Golden Beavers of Dan Sekeres lost to Midland 25-0, topped West Allegheny 19-13 and fell to powerful Quaker Valley 19-0. John Petchel and Joe Rasillo provide a dual passing threat for Western.

Southside is looking for its first win in four starts, but will be hampered by the loss of fullback Ron Peden. He suffered a muscle bruise in his back against Edgewood, and will be replaced by Bob Brinkley. Quarterback Tom Doak is also nursing a neck muscle injury, but he is expected to play. Don Charlton's club has had trouble scoring, falling to Donora 30-7, Avalon 12-0 and Edgewood 20-0. Sharpsburg is 1-2, having lost to Verona 12-6 and Center 35-19 before topping Millvale 27-7 last week. Quarterback Dean Lavia and halfback Ricky Romea are the key backs for Sharpsburg.

Lisbon, a surprise at 2-1, tries to get even in the Tri-County League against Poland after falling to Minerva. Poland is 0-3, losing to Carrollton 20-6, Canfield 17-8 and Columbiana 28-6. Fullback Ronnie Bookout is the top runner for the Bulldogs of Bill Van Brocklin. They will miss Bruce Uler, defensive end, out with a knee injury. Last year Poland won 6-0, but Bud Bucher has brought improvement to the Blue Devils of Lisbon. John Morgan is their top runner and Randy Muntean quarterbacks the club.

United, 0-3, hopes to start winning with Springfield Local, also 0-3. The Golden Eagles of Ralph Pardee have lost to Leetonia 19-16, to Sebring 8-0 and to East Canton 20-0. The Mahoning County club has fallen to North Lima, Lowellville and Leetonia, 33-6, so from comparative scores against the Bears United should be favored.

Crestview, 2-1 meets North Lima in an Inter-County League clash. The Rebels fell to Mineral Ridge 40-6 in their opener, but have trounced Southington 32-6 and Lowellville 28-0. The Zips have topped Springfield Local and Greenford while losing to Waterloo. Joe Remish leads the Rebel scorers scoring for Dick Scarborough's team.

CHARLES FINLEY

Finley Intends To Move

By FRANK CRAWFORD
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley told the city fathers Thursday that he has had enough of Kansas City and wants to take his American League baseball club and get out.

The city insists major league baseball should not turn its back on a city that has endured a last-place club for much of 13 years, a mule mascot, minor league players and antics of an owner who has chosen to abandon a commumity that voted cash to build a 45,000-seat stadium with a roofed playing field.

The City Council is going to an Oct. 18 meeting of the American League prepared to convince club owners that Kansas City has shown support commensurate with the Athletics' record, beginning in 1955 when 1,300,000 paid to watch a sixth-place club—the highest the A's have finished here.

Not the least of their arguments will be the 69 per cent vote for the Sports Complex with separate stadiums for baseball and football. Finley who has threatened to move to half a dozen cities since buying the franchise in 1961, ignored the bond election.

Rumor has it that the solution will be a move by Finley and expansion of the major leagues into Kansas City next year or the near future.

Baseball fans say they would like for the A's to stay, minus Finley. They argue the club has some fine young talent that has been rushed into the major leagues too soon but eventually will be winners. But Finley has said he won't sell.

Winner Likes Performance Of Quarterback

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jim Hart is just a growing boy, and people expect too much if they think he can become a man in 14 Sundays, Cardinal football coach Charley Winner says.

"Too many people are expecting miracles from Jim," Winner said. "He's making normal progress, and we're very happy to date. Each week he seems to see a little more in a game."

Hart took over the No. 1 quarterback spot when the Army called up Charley Johnson. The youngster had less than one quarter of game experience from his rookie year. He's shown signs of being a good mechanical quarterback with a cunning mind, but he's taken his lumps too.

"He's got to learn where the linebackers are coming from," Winner said. "He's got to recognize when to throw to his secondary receivers. And he has to digest what he sees in the coverage and the things he sees in a ball game."

Ohio U.-Kent St. Top State Clash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — surging Ohio University gets its largest football audience in history Saturday when the Bobcats take on challenging Kent State at OU's Peden Stadium.

The Mid-American Conference match, billed as a clash between two of the MAC's strongest clubs, could draw more than the record 20,200 that saw Ohio and Miami tangle at Athens last year.

Rookie quarterback Cleve Bryant, the flash from Canton, and tailback Dick Conley are the two big guns in Ohio's attack that Kent will have to stop.

The Golden Flashes, probably the most muscular team in the league, have a fine passer in Ron Swartz and outstanding backs in Don Fitzgerald, Billy Blunt and Joe Pledger.

Ohio nipped the Flashes last year when Bill Pataki boomed a 49-yard field goal in the last 10 seconds that provided a 12-10 dedicion.

There are other major tilts on the card. Toledo goes to Marshall in a MAC fray; Miami entertains Xavier; Bowling Green travels to Dayton; Cincinnati goes to Memphis State; Akron is at the Rubber Bowl against the Quantico Marines, Wittenberg visits Susquehanna; Youngstown plays at Baldwin-Wallace, and Muskingum, after losing to Wittenberg last Saturday, tries to rebound against Otterbein on the road.

The Bowling Green - Dayton skirmish under the lights could be the best one on the program. The Flyers (2-0) haven't scored a point against the Falcons in four years and have lost nine straight to BG.

Coach John McVay's Flyers have a strong attack featuring the running of Mel Taylor, Bill Mayo and Bob Madden, while BG is likely to count on the pin-point passing of junior quarterback P. J. Nyitray.

The others:

Buckpasser, In Big Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Four equine glamor boys of thoroughbred racing and two rabbits hook up Saturday at Aqueduct in the $100,000-added Woodward—a 1¼-mile weight-forage race that could decide the championship of three divisions. The race of the year brings together Buckpasser, 1966 Horse of the Year seeking to strengthen his claim to a second term plus the handicap title; Handsome Boy, winner of three $100,000 plus races and also a candidate for both honors, as well as Damascus and Dr. Fager, the two leading contenders for the 3-year-old title. A victory by either of the youngsters in the Woodward would give his owner a good talking point for horse of the year honors.

The two rabbits are Great Power, stablemate of Buckpasser, and Hedevar, one-time holder of the world standard for one mile who'll be coupled with Damascus. Their jobs will be to see that the flashy Dr. Fager and the front-running Handsome Boy don't steal the race with a false early pace.

Aqueduct's oddsmaker has made Buckpasser and Great Power the 6-5 choice with odds of 2-1 quoted on the entry of Damascus and Hedevar and Dr. Fager and 6-1 on Handsome Boy.

The 4-year-old Buckpasser and Handsome Boy and the 5-year-old Hedevar will carry 126 pounds.

Westgate Eleven, Edmond Jones In Scoreless Tie

Bob Dean at linebacker and Jeff Michels at guard were standouts for the Wildcats. The entire defense did a good job in stopping Edmond Jones. Westgate is now 1-1-1 after a 22-14 loss to Steubenville Big Red last week and an opening win over Weirton Madonna.

Westgate and East play for the city championship at Patterson Field next Thursday at 4:30. East's scheduled game against Weirton Madonna yesterday was cancelled.

Brown Players Confident Of Having Good Season

CLEVELAND (AP) — "We'll bounce back."

That is the prediction of Cleveland Browns' defensive tackle Jim Kanicki, and other members of the defense are voicing similar determination.

In the eyes of some people the Browns are a "shattered group" after losing their first two games, said Paul Wiggin, adding that "we're trying to pick up the pieces."

The defensive end said it reminded him of 1964.

"All this week I felt the same way I did in 1964 when John Henry Johnson gained 203 yards against us," Wiggin said. "People said you're through. People demanded to know what happened and we couldn't tell them. But we went on to pick up the pieces."

That year the Browns won the National Football League championship.

"I have the same feeling I had in 1964," said Wiggin. "Now we've got to do the job Sunday. We're a good team," he added.

Kanicki remarked that the defense "played three good games before Detroit. Then we had a letdown.

"We've got 11 guys out there who are pros. They've got families to feed. There is more determination this week. We know we've got our backs to the wall. The guys know they have to redeem themselves," Kanicki concluded.

Placed On Waivers

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Chapparrals of the American Basketball League put Willie Brown, former Texas Western star, on waivers Thursday.

Wills Thinks Pirates Will Trade Him Soon

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Maury Wills thinks the Pittsburgh Pirates will be trading him soon. To whom: Would you believe the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I'd like to have him back," said Dodger Vice Fresident Buzzie Bavasi.

What about Dodger owner Walter O'Malley, who insisted that Wills be traded after he jumped the Dodgers on their trip to Japan last October.

Potters, 2-0, Entertain Steubenville Central, 1-1-1

Traditional Rival Here Tomorrow

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Six area grid games are on tap tonight and six tomorrow, including Steubenville Central Catholic at East Liverpool.

Kickoff is 7:45 at Patterson Field. Other area games find Mars facing Western Beaver at Midland at 8, South Side Beaver traveling to Sharpsburg for an 11:30 a.m. game, Springfield Local at United, Lisbon at Poland and Crestview at North Lima.

"A spread offense has been effective against Steubenville Central", notes Potter coach Bob McNea, "and we have made adjustments in our offense during the two weeks since our last game". The Potters are 2-0, have won 10 straight, and haven't been scored on in their last six encounters. The Crusaders, expected to do well this year, have disappointed their followers by going 1-1-1. They beat Toledo Central 14-0, lost to Follansbee 18-13 and were tied by Weirton Madonna 16-16. In the latter two games the Crusaders had two touchdown leads but lost them.

Chief threats for the invaders are Joe Caranfa and Lou Julian. Caranfa, 5-8, 145, is "the best scatback I've had here in seven years", according to Central coach Richard Pont. McNea says Caranfa is bigger, stronger and faster than Sam Scott of East Liverpool, though not as elusive. Julian, a 210-pound fullback, is the player McNea really respects. "He made half the tackles on defense, and is very strong and hard to bring down, on offense" the local coach notes. McNea also said that their passing hasn't been too good, but "the last time I said that they passed for about 180 yards against us." Jimmy Miller, a junior, is the Crusade quarterback.

Caranfa is reported injured however, and may not be able to play against the Potters.

"There are six starters back on defense for them," he continued, "but they have lost some boys from the secondary, and may be vulnerable to passing." Last year EL edged Central 8-0.

Mike McVay has been working some at quarterback for the home team, though Earl Diddle is expected to star there. Dan Cunningham, the normal number two signal - caller, is bothered by a knee injury and can't run well. Jim Musuraca has a chipped ankle bone, which will hamper his play all year. He will be available for action tomorrow, however, though Scott, McVay and Bill Jones will probably start in the backfield with Diddle. Bruce Christian has a bad cold, and has missed practice this week, but he is expected to start at tight end, with Tom Chambers the split end. Tackles will be Stanley Ice and John Stepien, guards Bill Hopper and Bob Jones and Ray Boyd the center. Ice and Don Cochran will be the defensive tackles, Hopper and Christian the defensive ends, and Bill Jones the middle guard. Jim Bess, whose hand is still a little stiff, will be at linebacker along with McVay. Mike Jackson is the "monster man". If able, Musuraca will start at safety, instead of Nelson (Sonny) Clark, and John Johnson and Chambers will be the halfbacks. McNea is hoping for a dry field, noting that a wet field hurts the offense.

Western Beaver, 1-2, plays its fourth straight Class A opponent before getting into Class B opposition. Mars is 0-3, having fallen to Center 13-0, Oakmont 39-7 and Freeport 48-6. The Golden Beavers of Dan Sekeres lost to Midland 25-0, topped West Allegheny 19-13 and fell to powerful Quaker Valley 19-0. John Petchel and Joe Rasillo provide a dual passing threat for Western.

Southside is looking for its first win in four starts, but will be hampered by the loss of fullback Ron Peden. He suffered a muscle bruise in his back against Edgewood, and will be replaced by Bob Brinkley. Quarterback Tom Doak is also nursing a neck muscle injury, but he is expected to play. Don Charlton's club has had trouble scoring, falling to Donora 30-7, Avalon 12-0 and Edgewood 20-0. Sharpsburg is 1-2, having lost to Verona 12-6 and Center 35-19 before topping Millvale 27-7 last week. Quarterback Dean Lavia and halfback Ricky Romea are the key backs for Sharpsburg.

Lisbon, a surprise at 2-1, tries to get even in the Tri-County League against Poland after falling to Minerva. Poland is 0-3, losing to Carrollton 20-6, Canfield 17-8 and Columbiana 28-6. Fullback Ronnie Bookout is the top runner for the Bulldogs of Bill Van Brocklin. They will miss Bruce Uler, defensive end, out with a knee injury. Last year Poland won 6-0, but Bud Bucher has brought improvement to the Blue Devils of Lisbon. John Morgan is their top runner and Randy Muntean quarterbacks the club.

United, 0-3, hopes to start winning with Springfield Local, also 0-3. The Golden Eagles of Ralph Pardee have lost to Leetonia 19-16, to Sebring 8-0 and to East Canton 20-0. The Mahoning County club has fallen to North Lima, Lowellville and Leetonia, 33-6, so from comparative scores against the Bears United should be favored.

Crestview, 2-1 meets North Lima in an Inter-County League clash. The Rebels fell to Mineral Ridge 40-6 in their opener, but have trounced Southington 32-6 and Lowellville 28-0. The Zips have topped Springfield Local and Greenford while losing to Waterloo. Joe Remish leads the Rebel scorers scoring for Dick Scarborough's team.

CHARLES FINLEY

Finley Intends To Move

By FRANK CRAWFORD
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley told the city fathers Thursday that he has had enough of Kansas City and wants to take his American League baseball club and get out.

The city insists major league baseball should not turn its back on a city that has endured a last-place club for much of 13 years, a mule mascot, minor league players and antics of an owner who has chosen to abandon a commumity that voted cash to build a 45,000-seat stadium with a roofed playing field.

The City Council is going to an Oct. 18 meeting of the American League prepared to convince club owners that Kansas City has shown support commensurate with the Athletics' record, beginning in 1955 when 1,300,000 paid to watch a sixth-place club—the highest the A's have finished here.

Not the least of their arguments will be the 69 per cent vote for the Sports Complex with separate stadiums for baseball and football. Finley who has threatened to move to half a dozen cities since buying the franchise in 1961, ignored the bond election.

Rumor has it that the solution will be a move by Finley and expansion of the major leagues into Kansas City next year or the near future.

Baseball fans say they would like for the A's to stay, minus Finley. They argue the club has some fine young talent that has been rushed into the major leagues too soon but eventually will be winners. But Finley has said he won't sell.

Winner Likes Performance Of Quarterback

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Jim Hart is just a growing boy, and people expect too much if they think he can become a man in 14 Sundays, Cardinal football coach Charley Winner says.

"Too many people are expecting miracles from Jim," Winner said. "He's making normal progress, and we're very happy to date. Each week he seems to see a little more in a game."

Hart took over the No. 1 quarterback spot when the Army called up Charley Johnson. The youngster had less than one quarter of game experience from his rookie year. He's shown signs of being a good mechanical quarterback with a cunning mind, but he's taken his lumps too.

"He's got to learn where the linebackers are coming from," Winner said. "He's got to recognize when to throw to his secondary receivers. And he has to digest what he sees in the coverage and the things he sees in a ball game."

Ohio U.-Kent St. Top State Clash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — surging Ohio University gets its largest football audience in history Saturday when the Bobcats take on challenging Kent State at OU's Peden Stadium.

The Mid-American Conference match, billed as a clash between two of the MAC's strongest clubs, could draw more than the record 20,200 that saw Ohio and Miami tangle at Athens last year.

Rookie quarterback Cleve Bryant, the flash from Canton, and tailback Dick Conley are the two big guns in Ohio's attack that Kent will have to stop.

The Golden Flashes, probably the most muscular team in the league, have a fine passer in Ron Swartz and outstanding backs in Don Fitzgerald, Billy Blunt and Joe Pledger.

Ohio nipped the Flashes last year when Bill Pataki boomed a 49-yard field goal in the last 10 seconds that provided a 12-10 dedicion.

There are other major tilts on the card. Toledo goes to Marshall in a MAC fray; Miami entertains Xavier; Bowling Green travels to Dayton; Cincinnati goes to Memphis State; Akron is at the Rubber Bowl against the Quantico Marines, Wittenberg visits Susquehanna; Youngstown plays at Baldwin-Wallace, and Muskingum, after losing to Wittenberg last Saturday, tries to rebound against Otterbein on the road.

The Bowling Green - Dayton skirmish under the lights could be the best one on the program. The Flyers (2-0) haven't scored a point against the Falcons in four years and have lost nine straight to BG.

Coach John McVay's Flyers have a strong attack featuring the running of Mel Taylor, Bill Mayo and Bob Madden, while BG is likely to count on the pin-point passing of junior quarterback P. J. Nyitray.

The others:

Westgate Eleven, Edmond Jones In Scoreless Tie

Bob Dean at linebacker and Jeff Michels at guard were standouts for the Wildcats. The entire defense did a good job in stopping Edmond Jones. Westgate is now 1-1-1 after a 22-14 loss to Steubenville Big Red last week and an opening win over Weirton Madonna.

Westgate and East play for the city championship at Patterson Field next Thursday at 4:30. East's scheduled game against Weirton Madonna yesterday was cancelled.

Brown Players Confident Of Having Good Season

CLEVELAND (AP) — "We'll bounce back."

That is the prediction of Cleveland Browns' defensive tackle Jim Kanicki, and other members of the defense are voicing similar determination.

In the eyes of some people the Browns are a "shattered group" after losing their first two games, said Paul Wiggin, adding that "we're trying to pick up the pieces."

The defensive end said it reminded him of 1964.

"All this week I felt the same way I did in 1964 when John Henry Johnson gained 203 yards against us," Wiggin said. "People said you're through. People demanded to know what happened and we couldn't tell them. But we went on to pick up the pieces."

That year the Browns won the National Football League championship.

"I have the same feeling I had in 1964," said Wiggin. "Now we've got to do the job Sunday. We're a good team," he added.

Kanicki remarked that the defense "played three good games before Detroit. Then we had a letdown.

"We've got 11 guys out there who are pros. They've got families to feed. There is more determination this week. We know we've got our backs to the wall. The guys know they have to redeem themselves," Kanicki concluded.

Placed On Waivers

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Chapparrals of the American Basketball League put Willie Brown, former Texas Western star, on waivers Thursday.

Wills Thinks Pirates Will Trade Him Soon

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Maury Wills thinks the Pittsburgh Pirates will be trading him soon. To whom: Would you believe the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I'd like to have him back," said Dodger Vice President Buzzie Bavasi.

What about Dodger owner Walter O'Malley, who insisted that Wills be traded after he jumped the Dodgers on their trip to Japan last October.

"I can't speak for O'Malley," Bavasi told Charley Feeney of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Cincinnati Stadium Bids High

CINCINNATI (AP)—The apparent low bids for general construction of Cincinnati's riverfront stadium topped previous estimates, but City Manager William Wichman recommended the city accept the bids.

After Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. of Indianapolis, Ind., entered bids of $31,200,000 and $30,600,000 depending on the completion date, Wichman said, "'This is the time for decision."

" I would be opposed to starting over and asking for new bids. We would have too much to lose," the city manager said.

Bid openings had been postponed several times and officials now say the stadium can be ready for either the 1969 football season or the 1970 baseball season. Bids were higher for completing the proposed multimillion structure by the football season.

James Finch of the stadium architects' team had estimated general construction cost as $30,500,000 for the 1968 date. Bids will officially be awarded in the near future.

Officials said companies from Alabama and Nebraska also submitted bids.

Gabe Paul Statement Scheduled

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians Manager Gabe Paul says he'll have an announcement by Monday on changes, if any, in the coaching staff for next year.

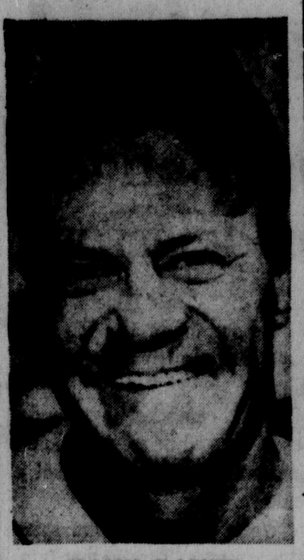

Manager Joe Adcock is completing the first year of a two-year contract, but there has been speculation that the Tribe may have a new manager for 1968.

The Indians wind up their season with home games against the Baltimore Orioles Saturday and Sunday. They were idle Thursday and today.

Asked again Thursday about possible coaching changes next season, Paul refused to give any information.

"'I'm not ready to say anything about it yet. I want to wait on it, but I'll have an announcement not later than Monday."

HANK BAUER

Hank Bauer To Be Back Next Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hank Bauer—a tough ex-Marine who was twice named Manager of the Year but whose fortunes plunged when the world champion Baltimore Orioles nosedived from glory to seventh place—will be back in 1968.

Harry Dalton, the director of player personnel for the American League club, announced Thursday night that Bauer would return, but not three coaches: Sherm Lollar, bullpen coach, Harry Brecheen, pitching coach, and Gene Woodling, first base coach.

Returning for the 1968 season will be third base coach Billy Hunter.

The announcement ended speculation in some quarters that Bauer would be replaced because of the club's poor showing during the current season.

Bauer said the three coaches "were real good friends of mine and I think all three of them did a good job.

"We thought there was a change necessary so we made it," said Bauer.

"We've been talking about a number of people as replacements," but he said he would not disclose who.

The Orioles' pilot said he hoped that all three of the coaches would find jobs with other clubs and he said he thought they would "work out well with other clubs."

Brecheen had been with the club since the St. Louis franchise moved to Baltimore in 1954. The other three were brought to the club by Bauer when he became manager in 1964.

Lucci Leads Lithe Lion Linebackers

"We're just playing a lot better," said the middle linebacker.

The defense was the National Football League Lions' strong suit for years, but this year the offense, sparked by the running of rookie Mel Farr, has grabbed the attention.

The Lions tied the world champion Green Bay Packers 17-17 in their season opener, then crushed Cleveland 31-14 Sunday.

Lucci thinks the defense is better, too, and gives a lot of credit to new coach Joe Schmidt and defensive coach Jim David.

"We've got a couple of new defenses which gives us something to go to in case we're getting hurt," he said, "and that's something we didn't have before."

Schmidt was the middle linebacker for the Lions for 13 years, but when he retired last year and became an assistant coach Lucci took over the job.

He filled in capably, intercepting five passes last year. The 27-year-old athlete stands 6-foot-2 and weighs 235 pounds.

There have been a lot of changes in the Lion defense this year, but Lucci thinks they've helped. Lem Barney, a rookie, moved in at cornerback. Jerry Rush took over at tackle when veteran Roger Brown was traded.

Eddie Ray Top Punter, Blocker

Ray averaged 49.3 yards with six punts in LSU's 20-14 comeback victory over Rice last Saturday night. The punting average surprised Coach Charles McClendon.

But McClendon was not at all surprised that Ray turned in an outstanding performance clearing the way for LSU ball carriers.

"He's a butt-er," said McClendon of his unheralded youngster from Vicksburg, Miss. "By that, I mean he really butts people."

Senior quarterback Nelson Stokley, who benefitted most Saturday night from Ray's crisp blocking, had nothing but praise for the sophomore, who won a starting job at fullback over several veterans.

"He was tremendous on the option," said Stokley, who gained 95 yards on the ground. "Eddie's real good and he's going to get better."

"That's just one example," the coach said. "He did that all right."

The press box at the University of Minnesota is rated the worst in the country by the Football Writers Association of America.

Middleweight Fight Postponed By Weather

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Rain washed out rosy hopes of a $400,000 gate Thursday and even threatened to force a second day's postponement of the return title fight tonight between middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti and Emile Griffith.

The rain, predicted by the weatherman, lashed the city much to the chagrin of the fighters, the promoters and thousands of Italians here from the old country for the outdoor 15-rounder in Shea Stadium.

It looked like more of the same today. The forecast was for rain during the day tapering off to occasional showers at night. Fight time is 10 p.m., EDT.

If a downpour forces another postponement, promoting Madison Square Garden will try to put on the show Saturday afternoon. The time would be 4 p.m. EDT.

If the fight has to be held Saturday afternoon, it will face formidable competition from other sports.

Every drop in the receipts costs Benevenuti and Griffith. The Italian, who dethroned Griffith on a unanimous decision in the Garden last April 17, collects 40 per cent, and Griffith 20 per cent, of all receipts.

The fighters, who weighed in Thursday morning and who will have to weigh in again today, said a one-day delay would make no difference in their fighting ability.

Cincinnati Stadium Bids High

CINCINNATI (AP)—The apparent low bids for general construction of Cincinnati's riverfront stadium topped previous estimates, but City Manager William Wichman recommended the city accept the bids.

After Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. of Indianapolis, Ind., entered bids of $31,200,000 and $30,600,000 depending on the completion date, Wichman said, "This is the time for decision."

"I would be opposed to starting over and asking for new bids. We would have too much to lose," the city manager said.

Bid openings had been postponed several times and officials now say the stadium can be ready for either the 1969 football season or the 1970 baseball season. Bids were higher for completing the proposed multimillion structure by the football season.

James Finch of the stadium architects' team had estimated general construction cost as $30,500,000 for the 1968 date. Bids will officially be awarded in the near future.

Officials said companies from Alabama and Nebraska also submitted bids.

Gabe Paul Statement Scheduled

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians Manager Gabe Paul says he'll have an announcement by Monday on changes, if any, in the coaching staff for next year.

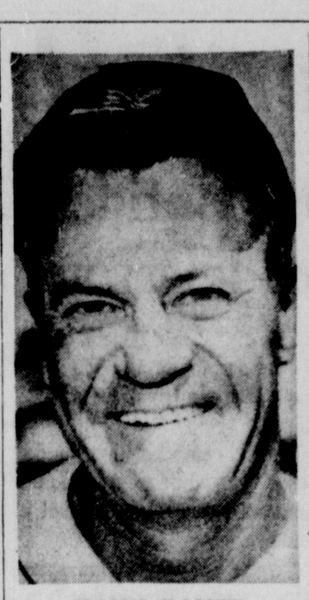

Manager Joe Adcock is completing the first year of a two-year contract, but there has been speculation that the Tribe may have a new manager for 1968.

The Indians wind up their season with home games against the Baltimore Orioles Saturday and Sunday. They were idle Thursday and today.

Asked again Thursday about possible coaching changes next season, Paul refused to give any information.

"I'm not ready to say anything about it yet. I want to wait on it, but I'll have an announcement not later than Monday."

HANK BAUER

Hank Bauer To Be Back Next Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hank Bauer—a tough ex-Marine who was twice named Manager of the Year but whose fortunes plunged when the world champion Baltimore Orioles nosedived from glory to seventh place—will be back in 1968.

Harry Dalton, the director of player personnel for the American League club, announced Thursday night that Bauer would return, but not three coaches: Sherm Lollar, bullpen coach, Harry Brecheen, pitching coach, and Gene Woodling, first base coach.

Returning for the 1968 season will be third base coach Billy Hunter.

The announcement ended speculation in some quarters that Bauer would be replaced because of the club's poor showing during the current season.

Bauer said the three coaches "were real good friends of mine and I think all three of them did a good job.

"We thought there was a change necessary so we made it," said Bauer.

"We've been talking about a number of people as replacements," but he said he would not disclose who.

The Orioles' pilot said he hoped that all three of the coaches would find jobs with other clubs and he said he thought they would "work out well with other clubs."

Brecheen had been with the club since the St. Louis franchise moved to Baltimore in 1954. The other three were brought to the club by Bauer when he became manager in 1964.

Lucci Leads Lithe Lion Linebackers

"We're just playing a lot better," said the middle linebacker.

The defense was the National Football League Lions' strong suit for years, but this year the offense, sparked by the running of rookie Mel Farr, has grabbed the attention.

The Lions tied the world champion Green Bay Packers 17-17 in their season opener, then crushed Cleveland 31-14 Sunday.

Lucci thinks the defense is better, too, and gives a lot of credit to new coach Joe Schmidt and defensive coach Jim David.

"We've got a couple of new defenses which gives us something to go to in case we're getting hurt," he said, "and that's something we didn't have before."

Schmidt was the middle linebacker for the Lions for 13 years, but when he retired last year and became an assistant coach Lucci took over the job.

He filled in capably, intercepting five passes last year. The 27-year-old athlete stands 6-foot-2 and weighs 235 pounds.

There have been a lot of changes in the Lion defense this year, but Lucci thinks they've helped. Lem Barney, a rookie, moved in at cornerback. Jerry Rush took over at tackle when veteran Roger Brown was traded.

Eddie Ray Top Punter, Blocker

Ray averaged 49.3 yards with six punts in LSU's 20-14 comeback victory over Rice last Saturday night. The punting average surprised Coach Charles McClendon.

But McClendon was not at all surprised that Ray turned in an outstanding performance clearing the way for LSU ball carriers.

"He's a butt-er," said McClendon of his unheralded youngster from Vicksburg, Miss. "By that, I mean he really butts people."

Senior quarterback Nelson Stokley, who benefitted most Saturday night from Ray's crisp blocking, had nothing but praise for the sophomore, who won a starting job at fullback over several veterans.

"He was tremendous on the option," said Stokley, who gained 95 yards on the ground. "Eddie's real good and he's going to get better."

"That's just one example," the coach said. "He did that all right."

The press box at the University of Minnesota is rated the worst in the country by the Football Writers Association of America.

Middleweight Fight Postponed By Weather

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Rain washed out rosy hopes of a $400,000 gate Thursday and even threatened to force a second day's postponement of the return title fight tonight between middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti and Emile Griffith.

The rain, predicted by the weatherman, lashed the city much to the chagrin of the fighters, the promoters and thousands of Italians here from the old country for the outdoor 15-rounder in Shea Stadium.

It looked like more of the same today. The forecast was for rain during the day tapering off to occasional showers at night. Fight time is 10 p.m., EDT.

If a downpour forces another postponement, promoting Madison Square Garden will try to put on the show Saturday afternoon. The time would be 4 p.m. EDT.

If the fight has to be held Saturday afternoon, it will face formidable competition from other sports.

Every drop in the receipts costs Benevenuti and Griffith. The Italian, who dethroned Griffith on a unanimous decision in the Garden last April 17, collects 40 per cent, and Griffith 20 per cent, of all receipts.

The fighters, who weighed in Thursday morning and who will have to weigh in again today, said a one-day delay would make no difference in their fighting ability.

There's one thing worse than outdoor goosepimples. Indoor goosepimples. Zonolite® Attic Insulation is the cure.

Thick Zonolite Attic Insulation keeps the heat in. Pour Zonolite right over the old fluff, level it off at the top of the joists and leave it.

Heat bills go down, and so do goosepimples.

Junior Editors Quiz on FLY ROD

QUESTION: How did the fishing pole get the name "fly rod?"

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: There is no doubt at all that one can have a great deal of fun — and catch a lot of fish — by the use of a good old-fashioned fishing pole. A small sinker is attached above the hook and there is a movable float or bobber. When it "bobs", you jerk your pole to set the hook in the fish's mouth — and that's it. But somewhere back in Roman times, some sports fisherman got the idea it would be fun to make artificial bait, like the flies which often float on the surface and which fish grab at. Later developments made fly-fishing even more fun. A very light flexible rod came to be used, by which you played or tired out a fish rather than just yanking him out of the water. A reel on the rod handle enabled you to keep the line taut all the time. People like fly fishing because it's so exciting.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: My family loves chicken and since it is inexpensive to buy now, I have stocked my freezer. We particularly like the white meat so I bought a number of packages of just the breasts when they were on sale.

Can you tell me a NEW way to fry it?

OLDSTER.

Dear Youngster: For variety, this is the way I cook chicken breast. Try it.

Remove the meat from the bone and pull off the skin. Lay the meat flat on your chopping board and pound away with the larger side of your meat pounder as if it were a chicken-fried-steak patty. Dip it in water and shake to remove any excess. Do not wipe dry.

Then dip it in flour and set aside for at least 30 minutes before frying. As soon as the bottom is brown, turn it over. Turn ONLY once. This is the secret to non-greasy chicken.

Salt and pepper it when you remove it from the skillet. NOT before. May be eaten plain or have chicken gravy poured over it.

And, did you know that if your skillet is big enough (or your family small enough), you can fry potatoes in that skillet at the same time the chicken is frying? Saves another pan to wash. . . .

P.S. This stripped chicken breast can also be cut in strips like French fries, buttered and deep fried like potatoes. So different! Both are easy to eat.

LETTER OF LAUGHER

DEAR HELOISE: I want to thank you for the advice about not spraying indoors with pressurized paint. Unfortunately, your advice came two days after my husband had sprayed our kitchen exhaust hood.

Our surroundings are now slightly green. What color was yours?

"NELLOISE".

P.S. If you can laught about it, I will too!

-:-

I'm laughing! But we'll know better next time, won't we?

HELOISE.

P.S. Mine was gold.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's how I make pancakes so that all of us can sit down at once to eat them.

I put a small amount of water in a skillet and place one of those aluminum foil pie pans on top of it, bringing the water to a boil and turn off. Then as each pancake comes off the griddle, I butter it and plop it down in the hot pie tin and cover with a piece of foil.

When breakfast is ready, I take the full pie tin to the table. The pancakes are hot and tender and best of all, we can all enjoy them together.

GERTIE BELL.

DEAR HELOISE: When sewing a dress, try placing the side zipper in upside down. It's easier to zip up in a hurry and that little metal tab won't rub on the inside of your arm.

I like mine much better when put in this way.

ALICE DAVIS.

DEAR HELOISE: When wallpaper becomes loose at the seams, just apply a little glue to a piece of thick cardboard. Then slip it under the unstuck edge and rub it up and down to smear the glue.

After removing the cardboard, press and rub the loose paper with a paper towel. It will smooth out, excess glue will be wiped up and the wallpaper will be stuck again.

Capital U. Employes Cancel Strike Slated For Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Capital Univresity's nonacademic employes have called off a strike threatened for midnight tonight, pending the outcome of a meeting with university officials Saturday morning.

Capital, a Lutheran-supported school in Columbus, is the latest Ohio school to face a strike by the nonteaching personnel.

Employes at Ohio State University have threatened to strike the huge Columbus campus next Thursday. Ohio State and Local 138, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, remain in a deadlock over union demands for higher wages.

John Tittle, business agent for Local 1632 at Capital, said Thursday night the university requested an additional two weeks in effrots to work out something without a strike.

Tittle said the union members will vote on the request Saturday morning, but "I don't think they'll buy it." If not, he added, there's a possibility of the employes going on strike at noon Saturday.

Tittle said he received "no guarantee" from Capital attorney Theodore Host that the university would come up with something if given an extra two weeks. Tittle said the request for the Saturday meeting was a "surprise."

Unlike the Ohio State employes, the Capital workers are not seeking pay raises. They want union recognition, establishment of grievance procedures and a payroll checkoff system for members' dues, Tittle said.

All eight unions of the county were represented.

Employes OK Pact With Boost In Pay

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)—Employes of the Liberty Folder Division of the Bell & Howell Co. ratified a new three-year contract Thursday, just hours before they had threatened to strike. They are members of Local 2167, International Association of Machinists.

The new pact, approved 95-44, will give the employes an increase of 60 cents an hour over the three years. The average hourly pay under the first year of the new agreement will be $3.

Flood-Ravaged Fairbanks Winning Battle Of Its Life

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — With men, muscle, machines and a mighty assist from the weather, flood-ravaged Fairbanks is winning the battle of its life.

Six weeks after the rampaging Chena River covered this central Alaska city to a depth of 10 feet, a crash program of rehabilitation has completed essential work preparing for the oncoming Arctic winter.

H. A. Boucher, mayor of this city of 30,000 which incurred millions of dollars in flood damage, said Thursday, "We've had a great break in the weather."

Temperatures tumbled two weeks ago and Fairbanks shuddered, but warmer days followed. Trees are wearing autumn colors, however, and morning frosts have warned of the coming freeze.

Work done thus far in rejuvenating the city, said Ray Willman, would have taken two years under normal conditions. Willman is assistant to Creath Tooley, regional director of the federal Office of Emergency Planning who declared he never has seen a disaster project move so swiftly.

Schools are operating, with an enrollment of 6,000.

The annex at Mina Junior High School is temporary headquarters for the borough—county—government and for the Army Corps of Engineers.

The $4 million restoration of the city's public facilities and roads is almost complete. Not to be attempted until spring in the cleaning of silt and debris from the tunnels which carry the city's steam system and some electric lines.

Machines and men hurry to restore and reline the Chena's banks through the city. The flood chewed away as much as 10 feet of bank in places.

Sixty miles to the west, the town of Nenana, hit by floods of the Tanana and Nenana rivers, has not been able to open its schools.

Tooley estimated the OEP will spend $8 million, about half of which will reimburse public agencies for getting themselves back into operation.

The Red Cross spent more than 1.25 million and helped 2,776 of the 3,800 families asking aid.

Hoping to forestall future floods, the Corps of Engineers is preparing studies for two projects. A $58 million 100-foot high dam on the Chera some 26 miles west of Fairbanks was discussed several years ago but never built.

Now under consideration also is a much higher dam with a 12,000-acre reservoir. It would provide flood control work on the Little Chena River, a troublesome tributary.

Burning Permits Required

Fire Wardens Are Listed; Season To Begin Sunday

The District office of the Ohio Division of Forestry and Reclamation at New Philadelphia announced today that the fall forest fire season will begin Sunday and continues through Nov. 30.

During these months burning permits are required for all fires kindled in the open outside the corporation limits of towns and villages.

Burning permits are issued, free of charge, by local forest fire wardens to land owners, their tenants or their agents. Safety precautions and regulations described on the permits must be fully observed.

Burning without a permit, or allowing a fire to escape control is a violation of the Ohio forest fire laws and the person responsible is liable to prosecution.

Listed below are townships in this area included in the organized forest fire protection area and the local forest fire wardens for each township.

The Red Cross spent more than 1.25 million and helped 2,776 of the 3,800 families asking aid.

Hoping to forestall future floods, the Corps of Engineers is preparing studies for two projects. A $58 million 100-foot high dam on the Chera some 26 miles west of Fairbanks was discussed several years ago but never built.

Now under consideration also is a much higher dam with a 12,000-acre reservoir. It would provide flood control work on the Little Chena River, a troublesome tributary.

Burning Permits Required

Fire Wardens Are Listed; Season To Begin Sunday

The District office of the Ohio Division of Forestry and Reclamation at New Philadelphia announced today that the fall forest fire season will begin Sunday and continues through Nov. 30.

During these months burning permits are required for all fires kindled in the open outside the corporation limits of towns and villages.

Burning permits are issued, free of charge, by local forest fire wardens to land owners, their tenants or their agents. Safety precautions and regulations described on the permits must be fully observed.

Burning without a permit, or allowing a fire to escape control is a violation of the Ohio forest fire laws and the person responsible is liable to prosecution.

Listed below are townships in this area included in the organized forest fire protection area and the local forest fire wardens for each township.

Leaders Named As Choir Parents Outline Projects

Committee chairmen were appointed by William Gaston, president, during the meeting of the East Liverpool High School Choir Parents Tuesday night in the choir room.

Robert Harris, director of the local Social Security office, was guest speaker. He discussed the United Fund.

Plans were made for the sale of basketball programs, with area businessmen to be solicited for ads, Gaston said. The sale of program is the primary source of income for the organization, which purchases materials and equipment for the choir, he pointed out.

Fifty attended the meeting. The next will be Oct. 24.
